A stylized illustration of a modern house at night. The house is illuminated from within, casting a warm orange glow. A person is standing in the doorway, silhouetted against the light. The house is set against a dark, dense forest of evergreen trees. The overall mood is mysterious and somewhat unsettling.

Dangerous Liaisons Anne McClintock, Aamir Mufti, Ella Shohat, 1997 The first collection to emphasize the complex interaction between gender and postcoloniality Most people in the world from Africa to Asia and beyond live in the aftermath of colonialism Their day to day lives are defined by their past history as colonized peoples often in ways that are subtle or hard to define In Dangerous Liaisons eminent contributors address the issues raised by the postcolonial condition considering nationhood history gender and identity from an inter disciplinary perspective Among the questions they address are What are the boundaries of race and ethnicity in a diasporic world How have women been so effectively excluded from national power What have been the historical aftermaths of different forms of colonialism What are the cultural and political consequences of colonial partitions of the nation state Representing an essential intervention Dangerous Liaisons is a crucial guidebook for those concerned with understanding postcoloniality at the moment when it is becoming more and more widely discussed

The Homelessness of Being Prashan Ranasinghe, 2025-03-14 The Homelessness of Being invites readers to consider what it means to be human This dialogue between sociology and the early and middle phases of Heidegger's writings argues that to be human is to be homeless This homelessness is not one of materiality of being houseless but one that is ontological the homelessness that constitutes the essence of humanity where one is disconnected from the essence of one's self or being Prashan Ranasinghe theorizes this homelessness as an indeterminate nothingness where the notion of being is unsettled because it is an amalgam of something and nothing More broadly the book adds to existing debates about whether especially after the global pandemic the social sciences have failed to explore everyday affects such as anxiety and boredom as revelatory of the essential homelessness of being human It will interest philosophers sociologists and scholars engaging with Heidegger's ideas

Hölderlin's Hymn "The Ister" Martin Heidegger, 1996 Martin Heidegger's 1942 lecture course interprets Friedrich Hölderlin's hymn The Ister within the context of Hölderlin's poetic and philosophical work with particular emphasis on Hölderlin's dialogue with Greek tragedy Delivered in summer 1942 at the University of Freiburg this course was first published in German in 1984 as volume 53 of Heidegger's Collected Works Revealing for Heidegger's thought of the period are his discussions of the meaning of the political and the national in which he emphasizes the difficulty and the necessity of finding one's own in and through a dialogue with the foreign In this context Heidegger reflects on the nature of translation and interpretation A detailed reading of the famous chorus from Sophocles Antigone known as the ode to man is a key feature of the course

Heidegger, Bonhoeffer and the Concept of Home in Christian Youth Work Phoebe Hill, 2022-05-25 This book explores what it means to be and become at home in theological perspective located in the context of a youth club Drawing on ethnographic research Phoebe Hill presents an account of what an authentic Christian hospitality could look like in a youth setting and the ways in which the young people the strangers at the door might enable the Christian youth worker to become more fully at home Discourses around Christian hospitality often unwittingly perpetuate implicit power imbalances The youth club offers a context for Christian hospitality that tips the power in favour of the young people who attend enabling the youth leaders to share and create home with young people in a distinctive way As young people leave the Church in droves the Church faces the urgent and daunting task of finding new ways of being with young people on their own terms this book offers one solution Hill argues that homecoming is an essential task of humanity We are connected in this common pilgrimage and the need to find places and spaces where we can be at home Becoming at home may be harder than ever before numerous sociological philosophical and theological factors are compromising our ability to dwell in the contemporary world Dwelling on the Margins of Empire Lisa Binkley,2025-12-11 This book considers histories of home from the margins highlighting the perspectives of displaced colonised and disenfranchised groups in imperial and settler colonial contexts
