Along the way, they learned to build upon their experiences to create a better way of life for themselves Their voices are at once personal and political for they speak about the impact of the experience of family school and community on their emerging self as well as the psycho social turmoil created living in a society where the color of one s skin defines one s place in the social order These are stories of triumph of the human spirit They are stories of faith hope love strong will and determination As one storyteller found if a person can take the worst thing that could happen to them in life and see that as an event and not their entire life success will always be on the horizon

The Triumph over the Mediocre Self Dr. Talib Kafaji,2013-08-26 Normally we come to the world from parents who are not educated in the way they raise us Often our parents dump their pathology on us and keep us struggling in our lives to free ourselves from such burdens Following that we enter the outside world and we observe a lot of dysfunctions in society We then continue to sail through the journey of our lives with painful dysfunctions We become confused frustrated less happy and disappointed in ourselves and in the world around us because we have not being taught or guided to discover who we are and to know our true essence We have not been provided the right tools to manage our lives effectively The way we learned to do things is merely trial and error Furthermore among all other species human beings take longer to be independent from parents or caregivers We need more time to mature so we can rely on ourselves Therefore a book such as this can be useful to guide us through the labyrinth of our lives

The Road to Resiliency Troy Payne,2011-02-10 Adversity discriminates against no one We all face challenges and obstacles throughout our lives We all have a story to tell How can we stop the cycles of abuse and addictions now rather than ignoring them and finding ourselves dealing with them in the future How can we encourage empower and inspire people to make healthy choices to embrace lifeto love themselves and those around them Our personal realities are only our perception of our experiences Two people can share the exact same experience and yet have two completely different views on that experience Abuse is often viewed in this manner The Road to Resiliency presents a true story as told from Kyles perspective sharing his memories of his experiences In the aftermath of Kyles devastating personal journey many figures in this story have denied the facts Although convinced that a higher power was guiding him and telling him to forgive Kyle found himself confused Understanding that divergence between memories and truth provides the first step to stopping the cycle of abuse

Almost nobody publishes their gray days their tears their desolations their falls their defeats Almost everyone likes to be perceived as people who are free of pain and desolation People tend to associate success away from the negative but it has been proven that without the negative in life life would not be a triumph over adversity I personally believe that without the negative life would be devoid of challenges that drive us to excel If we knew that in every adversity there is a seed of triumph we would love to face them every day If we could extract the essence of success we could see that it is the balance between aspirations and your quality of life Living by your own rules where you measure yourself every day The author has written this work with the intention of reflecting his experience and firmly believes that there is no valid excuse for those who want to overcome adversity but even more so for those who believe and are in continuous movement His experience has served him to advise hundreds of young people who need encouragement in the midst of the difficulties they live day by day he exhorts them to trust in faith and in the inner strength that comes from believing in the hidden or undiscovered potential of oneself and challenges them in the search for high ideals and goals of their own that will drive them to transcend their own expectations Their optimism in the face of adversity is a clear example that yes you can fight and win at every stage of life It is impossible to teach another how to live their life what is proven is that examples often motivate us to take our own training
