Direct Social Work Practice Dean H. Hepworth, Jo Ann Larsen, 1993 By delineating discrete practical skills and providing both skill development exercises and modeled responses adapted from actual clinical situations Hepworth and Larsen prepare students effectively for delivering social work services to individuals couples families and other groups Written from an eclectic perspective the authors integrate knowledge and skills from diverse practice models within an ecological systems framework emphasizing those models that are empirically grounded and focusing on the multiple roles involved in both generalist and direct practice

Integrating Gender in the Social Work Core Curriculum , 1999

Direct Social Work Practice Dean H.

Hepworth, Ronald H. Rooney, Jo Ann Larsen, 2002 This text prepares social work students for effective work in the field through proven learning experiences that are as close to real life practice as they can get from a textbook The book has long been praised for the rigor of its theory It is regarded as the classic and best source for helping students learn direct social work practice skills The book integrates the major theories and skills that direct social work practitioners need to understand and master Consisting of four parts the book begins by identifying the mission of social work its values and knowledge base The authors then differentiate generalist from direct practice and explore roles of direct practitioners Common elements amongst diverse theorists are then examined while key intervention strategies and various client population and practice settings are presented Specifically Part One provides the foundational values and knowledge base material Part Two is devoted to the beginning phase of the helping process Part Three addresses the middle phase goal attainment strategies and Part Four clarifies the termination phase of direct practice
