Whether you're a first time cat owner or a long term feline friend there will be things you would know about your cat that you don't know about. Sometimes you might wonder about a behavior or a sound that could mean something but you don't know how you can tell if your cat is happy. Cats are beloved household pets having a unique personality and individual nature. Although many might believe that cats are cold and cruel, if they are well loved and treated on some level, they can be the best of friends. For you to enjoy having a cat around, you need to understand cat behaviors, hear them speak, know how they are feeling, so that you will be able to treat them right. Cats have a wide range of emotions, from happy and relaxed to anxious, stressed, and even frustrated. Cats typically convey information with their bodies through a combination of redundant signals. Different parts of the cat's body, like their tail, ears, or eyes, provide cues that express important messages. In order to read a cat's body language, therefore, you need to look at each individual signal as well as the cat's behavior as a whole to evaluate what they're trying to say. This is where this book draws its relevance. Contents of this book promote understanding and bonding between you and your beloved feline friend as it demystifies cat's behaviors and empowers you to correctly interpret what your pet is precisely saying at any point in time using body language.
