While Memory Serves:

While Memory Serves Sir Francis Tuker, 1950 From book's introduction This is the tale of the last two years of British rule in India told by one who watched events from the Headquarters of Eastern Command WHILE MEMORY SERVES Francis Ivan Simms Tuker, 1950 While Memory Serves Sir Ivan Simms Tuker, 1950 Making Peace, Making Riots Anwesha Roy, 2018-05-03 The decade of the 1940s was a turbulent one for Bengal War famine riots and partition Bengal witnessed it all and the unique experience of each of these factors created a space for diverse social and political forces to thrive and impact the lives of people of the province The book embarks on a study of the last seven years of colonial rule in Bengal analysing the interplay of multiple socioeconomic and political factors that shaped community identities into communal ones The focus is on three major communal riots that the province witnessed the Dacca Riots 1941 the Great Calcutta Killings August 1946 and the Noakhali Riots October 1946 This book moves beyond the binary understanding of communalism as Hindu versus Muslim and looks at the caste politics in the province and offers a complete understanding of the 1940s before partition Sisters of Mokama Jyoti Thottam, 2022-04-12 Sisters of Mokama is proof that faith and courage does move mountains Abraham Verghese author of Cutting for Stone The never before told story of six intrepid Kentucky nuns their journey to build a hospital in the poorest state in India and the Indian nurses whose lives would never be the same New York Times editor Jyoti Thottam's mother was part of an extraordinary group of Indian women Born in 1946 a time when few women dared to leave their house without the protection of a man she left home by herself at just fifteen years old and traveled to Bihar an impoverished and isolated state in northern India that had been one of the bloodiest regions of Partition in order to train to be a nurse under the tutelage of the determined and resourceful Appalachian nuns who ran Nazareth Hospital Like Thottam's mother's journey the hospital was a radical undertaking it was run almost entirely by women who insisted on giving the highest possible standard of care to everyone who walked through its doors regardless of caste or religion Fascinated by her mother's story Thottam set out to discover the full story of Nazareth Hospital which had been established in 1947 by six nuns from Kentucky With no knowledge of Hindi and the awareness that they would likely never see their families again the sisters had traveled to the small town of Mokama determined to live up to the pioneer spirit of their order founded in the rough hills of the Kentucky frontier A year later they opened the doors of the hospital soon they began taking in young Indian women as nursing students offering them an opportunity that would change their lives One of those women of course was Thottam's mother In Sisters of Mokama Thottam draws upon twenty years worth of research to tell this inspiring story for the first time She brings to life the hopes struggles and accomplishments of these ordinary women both American and Indian who succeeded against the odds during the tumult and trauma of the years after World War II and Partition Pain and loss were everywhere for the women of that time but the collapse of the old orders provided the women of Nazareth Hospital with an opening a chance to create for themselves lives that would never have been possible otherwise
