World Of Widows:

A World of Widows Margaret Owen, 1996-09 A World of Widows provides a global overview of the status for widowhood Neglected by social policy researches international human rights activists and the women s movement the status of the world s widows legal social cultural and economic is an urgent issue given the extent and the severity of the discrimination against them Margaret Own explores the process of becoming a widow poverty and social security in the context of widowhood differing laws and customs regarding widow s inheritance the situation of widows who remarry and issues of sexuality and health She also looks at the needs of specific groups of widows refugees older widows child widows and widowhood in the context of AIDS Throughout she shows the prevalence of discrimination against widows in inheritance rights land ownership custody of children security of home and shelter nutrition and health The book concludes with a summary of widowhood as a human rights issues and an overview of widows themselves organising for change

Reflections Beyond the Looking Glass Heather Colyer Ross, 2016-10-04 Reflections beyond the looking glass is a thoughtful addition to books designed to console and aid grieving widows This unique book not only illuminates the world of the widow more candidly as well as confronting the usually unspoken indelicate issues contributed and confirmed by the author s bereaved friends it also offers detailed practical information for widows and their families It became clear to the author that however well meaning the sympathy a widow s complex feelings were only truly understood by other widows therefore on their behalf this book also presents a plea for more understanding and respect from humanity whatever the country social sphere race or creed Encouragingly the United Nations General Assembly formally ratified International Widows Day in 2010 as held annually on the 23rd June to recognize widows human rights

World Widows Report The Loomba Foundation, 2016-02-01 The Loomba Foundation s World Widows Report is the only authoritative comprehensive data source about the discrimination and injustice faced by widows and their dependants country by country and worldwide informing SDG era policy formulation by the United Nations and national governments Key findings include The global affected population numbers 258m widows with 585m children Of these 38m widows live in extreme poverty where basic needs are unmet Since an earlier Loomba Foundation study in 2010 there has been a significant exacerbation in conflict areas in the Middle East and North Africa notably the Syrian civil war Worst affected by conflict are widows in Afghanistan Iraq South Sudan Central African Republic and Syria by the Boko Haram insurgency those in northeast Nigeria southeast Niger west Chad and north Cameroon In Sub Saharan Africa the worst conditions are faced by evicted and abandoned widows with dependants and by those caught up in the Ebola crisis areas which is further exacerbated by traditional cleansing rituals Widows with only female children and child widows aged between 10 and 17 face severe discrimination in many developing countries Social norms around sexual behaviour remain counterproductive with extreme poverty as a driver of exchange sex and survival sex relationships and poor quality healthcare Widows in western and developed countries have also been affected by cutbacks in social welfare and increased insecurity Customary cleansing rituals where widows are required to drink the water with which their dead husband's body has been washed and to have sex with a relative continue to spread disease and violate the dignity of widows in many Sub Saharan countries Widows are regularly accused of killing their husbands either deliberately or through neglect including by transmitting HIV AIDS in India Nepal Papua New Guinea and Sub Saharan Africa Systematic seizure of property and evictions by the late husband's family remains widespread in Angola Bangladesh Botswana Republic of Congo DR Congo India Ivory Coast Ghana Kenya Lesotho Malawi Namibia Nigeria Rwanda Senegal Swaziland Tanzania Uganda Zambia and Zimbabwe The World Widows Report is published to coincide with the adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals by the United Nations and provides a basis for researchers international and local agencies governments and all who care about gender inequality and the desperate plight of widows to develop sound evidence based policy for a better world Problems of Widows in India P. Adinarayana Reddy, 2004 Contributed articles presented earlier at a seminar held at Tirupati India

The World's Work, 1917 Widows' Words Nan Bauer-Maglin, 2019-05-03 Becoming a widow is one of the most traumatic life events that a woman can experience Yet as this remarkable new collection reveals each woman responds to that trauma differently Here forty three widows tell their stories in their own words Some were widowed young while others were married for decades Some cared for their late partners through long terminal illnesses while others lost their partners suddenly Some had male partners while others had female partners Yet each of these women faced the same basic dilemma how to go on living when a part of you is gone Widows Words is arranged chronologically starting with stories of women preparing for their partners deaths followed by the experiences of recent widows still reeling from their fresh loss and culminating in the accounts of women who lost their partners many years ago but still experience waves of grief Their accounts deal honestly with feelings of pain sorrow and despair and yet there are also powerful expressions of strength hope and even joy Whether you are a widow yourself or have simply experienced loss you will be sure to find something moving and profound in these diverse tales of mourning remembrance and resilience "Rice Plus" Susan Hagood Lee, 2006 This book explores the economic coping practices of rural widows in the aftermath of the Cambodian civil war War produces a preponderance of widows often young widows with small children in their care Rural widows must feed their families and educate their children despite rural poverty and the lack of opportunities for women The economics of widowhood is therefore a significant social problem in less developed countries The widows predominant economic plan was to combine rice cultivation with an assortment of microenterprises a rice plus strategy Many widows were unable to grow enough rice on their land to feed their families They filled the hunger gap by raising cash through microenterprises to purchase additional rice Gender work roles were both permeable and persistent allowing a flexible sexual division of labor in the short run but maintaining traditional roles in the long run Most widows called on relatives or exchanged transplanting labor for male plowing services although a few women took up the plow themselves The study also explores widows access to key economic resources such as land credit and education War decimated widows family support networks including the loss of children their social security The study concludes that Cambodia s gender arrangement offered many economic options to widows but also devalued their labor in a cultural structure of inequality Gender poverty and war interacted to reduce widows financial resources accounting for their economic vulnerability
