

The background of the cover is a detailed line drawing in a light tan color. It depicts a group of boys in a workshop or garage. One boy in the foreground is leaning over a workbench, focused on a task. Other boys are standing around, some looking on. In the background, there are various pieces of equipment, including a tall water tower or storage tank and a building with a chimney. The overall style is reminiscent of early 20th-century technical or educational illustrations.
