Troika II:

Troika II Carol Gloor, Gregg Shapiro, 1991-01-01 Perceptions and Social Uses of the Ancient Greek Dialects Andreas Willi, Philomen Probert, 2025-11-14 Research on the ancient Greek dialects traditionally focusses on the grammatical description of these regional varieties But dialects are more than geographically conditioned varieties of a language in antiquity no less than in modern times dialects may assume a range of social meanings as speakers associate specific forms of speech with communicative situations and purposes that are independent of geographical location as such This volume aims to complement research on the grammars of the ancient Greek dialects by exploring sociolinguistic and socio pragmatic dimensions of dialect variation in the Greek world For example what factors determine the choice of a given variety in situations of competition between different dialects including competition between Koin Greek and regional dialects How are regional dialects represented in literature and what do ancient sources tell us about the para linguistic associations evoked by the use of a given dialect How do ancient scholars and grammarians evaluate dialect usage including unexpected dialect features in literary texts How do social and historical changes impact on the relationship between epichoric and literary dialects

EU Foreign Policy, Transitional Justice and Mediation Laura Davis, 2014-07-11 This book analyses how the European Union translates its principles of peace and justice into policy and puts them into practice particularly in societies in or emerging from violent conflict The European Union treaty states that in its relations with the wider world the EU is to promote peace security the protection of human rights and the strict observance and the development of international law The EU is active in peace processes around the world yet its role in international peace mediation is largely ignored This book offers the first scholarly analysis of how the EU engages in peace processes and justice for human rights violations focussing on the point where mediation and transitional justice intersect Drawing on extensive fieldwork the book includes case studies of how the EU sought to promote peace and justice in the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC how it supports international justice through the International Criminal Court and a model of the EU as a mediator These provide an evidence base for policy makers and practitioners as well as strong empirical contributions to theory The book addresses whether and how the EU pursues its principles of both peace and justice in conflict zones where in practice these principles may be in conflict and the implications of these findings for understanding EU foreign policy and the EU as a security actor This book will be of much interest to students of EU foreign policy transitional justice peace and conflict studies and security studies

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.
