Hill, 1987-10-22 Tropical Legumes National Research Council, Research Council National Research Council, 2002-06 This National Academy of Sciences report describes plants of the family Leguminosae all of them greatly underexploited Some are extensively used in one part of the world but unknown elsewhere others are virtually unknown to science but have particular attributes that suggest they could become major crops in the future a few are already widespread but their possibilities are not yet fully realized Most of the plants described in this book have the capacity to provide their own nitrogenous fertilizer through bacteria that live in nodules on their roots the bacteria chemically convert nitrogen gas from the air into soluble compounds that the plant can absorb and utilize As a result legumes generally require no additional nitrogenous fertilizer for average growth This is advantageous because commercial nitrogenous fertilizers are now extremely expensive for peasant farmers This report demonstrates how farmers in developing countries by using leguminous plants can grow useful crops while avoiding that expense However the plants to be discussed here should be seen as complements to not as substitutes for conventional tropical crops Global Agro-Ecological Zones v4 - Model documentation Fischer, G., Nachtergaele, F.O., van Velthuis, H.T., Chiozza, F., Franceschini, G., Henry, M., Muchoney, D., Tramberend, S., 2021-05-26 This publication provides the GAEZ v4 model documentation for 1 Agro climatic analysis 2 Crop biomass and yield calculations 3 Land Utilization Types 4 Observed phenology and crop calendars 5 Temperature sum and temperature profile constraint factors 6 Crop specific water requirements 7 Soil water balance 8 Agro climatic constraints 9 Agro edaphic constraints more crops 10 Agro ecological crop potentials 11 Actual crop production and yields 12 Yield and production gaps This GAEZ v4 model documentation summarizes information on the structure of GAEZ methodology and provides information on updates of input data and model procedures from GAEZ v3 Handbook of Tropical Food Crops Franklin W.
