Visible Fictions:

Visible Fictions John Ellis, 2002-01-04 This revised edition of a standard textbook combines an examination of the cinema and television industries with a detailed analysis of their aesthetic and semiotic characteristics John Ellis draws on his experience as an independent television producer to provide a comprehensive and challenging overview of the place of film television and video in our daily lives and their future prospects in a changing media landscape Adapting Science Fiction to Television Max Sexton, Malcolm Cook, 2015-07-01 Before it reached television science fiction existed on the printed page in comic books and on movie screens for decades Adapting science fiction to the new medium posed substantial challenges Small viewing screens and limited production facilities made it difficult to achieve the sense of wonder that had become the genre's hallmark Yet television also offered unprecedented opportunities Its serial nature allowed for longer more complex stories as well as developing characters and building suspense over time Producers of science fiction television programming learned to create adaptations that honored the source material literature comics or film while taking full advantage of television's unique aesthetic In Adapting Science Fiction to Television Small Screen Expanded Universe Max Sexton and Malcolm Cook examine how the genre evolved over time The authors consider productions in both the UK and the United States ranging from Walt Disney's acclaimed Man in Space in the 1950s to the BBC's reimagined Day of the Triffids in the 1990s Iconic characters from Flash Gordon and Captain Nemo to Superman and Professor Quatermass all play a role in this history along with such authors as E M Forster and Wernher von Braun The real stars of this study however are the pioneering producers and directors who learned how to bring imagined worlds and fantastic stories into living rooms across the globe The authors make the case that television has become more sophisticated capable of taking on larger themes and deploying a more complex use of the image than other media A unique reappraisal of the history and dynamics of the medium Adapting Science Fiction Television will be of interest not only to scholars of science fiction but to anyone interested in the early history of television as well as the evolution of its unique capacity to tell stories Situating Sexualities Fran Martin, 2003-05-01 This is the first book in English to analyse the stunning rise to prominence of cultures of dissident sexuality in Taiwan during the 1990s Positioned at the crossroads of queer theory and postcolonial cultural studies this book intervenes in current debates on sexuality and globalization to argue that the current emergence of public dissident sexualities in non Western locations like Taiwan cannot be reduced to the effects of homogenizing Westernization Instead Situating Sexualities approaches the queer sexualities represented in recent Taiwanese fiction film and public culture as dynamic formations that combine local knowledge with globalizing discourses on gay and lesbian identity to produce sexualities that are multiple shifting and inherently hybrid Equally the book pushes out the limits of queer to challenge the Eurocentrism of much queer theory to date Consistently critical of essentializing accounts of Chinese culture the book nevertheless highlights some of the important ways in which Taiwanese formations of dissident sexuality differ from the

familiar Euro American formations Visible Fictions John Ellis,1984 Culture First! Kenneth Dyson,Walter Homolka,2016-10-06 We are increasingly conscious of living in an era whose scale dimensions and implications we do not fully comprehend Interactivity virtual reality and global communications are some of the most obvious dimensions of this new reality Its implications include cross media acquisitions and mergers by players like Murdoch Viacom and Disney and major questions about the future of the printed word and reading This book does not attempt to offer a broad survey of the new digital age in all its aspects Instead it restricts its questions to cultural standards and the issue of quality in media Culture First argues that the proper study of culture is normative and that the proper and neglected purpose of cultural studies should be the nurturing of normative argument and judgement This purpose can be better pursued if we return to the distinction between our best self and our ordinary self when thinking about cultural questions if we seek to articulate and think rigorously about aesthetic and ethical standards and if we recognize the specific cultural values of the printed word and reading as an activity and that the printed word is more than just a medium Surveillance and Terror in Post-9/11 British and American Television Darcie Rives-East,2019-07-18 This interdisciplinary study examines how state surveillance has preoccupied British and American television series in the twenty years since 9 11 Surveillance and Terror in Post 9 11 British and American Television illuminates how the U S and U K bound by an historical cultural and television partnership have broadcast numerous programs centred on three state surveillance apparatuses tasked with protecting us from terrorism and criminal activity the prison the police and the national intelligence agency Drawing from a range of case studies such as Sherlock Orange is the New Black and The Night Manager this book discusses how television allows viewers writers and producers to articulate fears about an increased erosion of privacy and civil liberties following 9 11 while simultaneously expressing a desire for a preventative mechanism that can stop such events occurring in the future However these concerns and desires are not new encompassing surveillance narratives both past and present this book demonstrates how television today builds on earlier narratives about panoptic power to construct our present understanding of government surveillance Media Fictions Michael Skovmand,1989 The Builder ,1920 Sex & God Linda McLean,2012 Four women from different moments in the twentieth century talk across time in Linda McLean s extraordinary play about faith lust and family Jane a kitchen maid the first in her family to move to the big city for work Lizzie passionate but unskilled and permanently dodging poverty Sally an early school leaver who escapes a dangerous relationship by working her way into a profession and Fiona first in her family to go to university and discover a world of bewildering choices Linda McLean s play Sex God was first performed at Platform Glasgow in October 2012 in a production by Magnetic North Also included in this volume is a short play What Love Is first performed at ran M r Glasgow in 2011 Building ,1920 Visible Fictions ,2004 Visible Fictions is one of the UK s leading theatre companies for children and young people About us Visible Language ,1980 The journal for research on the visual media of language expression Performative Histories, Foundational Fictions Anu Koivunen, 2003 Anu Koivunen analyses the historicity as well as the intertextuality and intermediality of film reception by focusing on a cycle of Finnish family melodrama and its key role in thinking about gender sexuality nation and history Koivunen argues that the Niskavuori films have mobilised readings in terms of history and memory feminist nationalism and men s movement left wing allegories and right wing morality as well as realism and melodrama

American Anatomies Robyn Wiegman, 1995 In this brilliantly combative study Robyn Wiegman challenges contemporary clichés about race and gender a formulation that is itself a cliché in need of questioning As part of what she calls her feminist disloyalty she turns a critical even skeptical eye on current debates about multiculturalism and difference while simultaneously exposing the many ways in which white racial supremacy has been reconfigured since the institutional demise of segregation Most of all she examines the hypocrisy and contradictoriness of over a century of narratives that posit Anglo Americans as heroic agents of racism s decline Whether assessing Uncle Tom s Cabin lynching Leslie Fiedler s racist mapping of the American novel the Black Power movement of the 60s 80s buddy films or the novels of Richard Wright and Toni Morrison Wiegman unflinchingly confronts the paradoxes of both racism and antiracist agendas including those advanced from a feminist perspective American Anatomies takes the long view What epistemological frameworks allowed the West from the Renaissance forward to schematize racial and gender differences and to create social hierarchies based on these differences How have those epistemological regimes changed and not changed over time Where are we now With painstaking care political passion and intellectual daring Wiegman analyzes the biological and cultural bases of racial and gender bias in order to reinvigorate the discussion of identity politics She concludes that for very different reasons identity proves to be dangerous to minority and majority alike

Television Studies Gary C. Burns, Robert Thompson, 1989-03-27 Burns and Thompson help to remedy the lack of a forum for current research on television by bringing together in this volume some of the best recent research in television studies This work will begin to fill the gap in literature on television studies as a discipline In compiling these 13 papers the editors maintain a balance of timely interest and lasting relevance The contributors study the texts of current TV dramatic and comic series such as Dallas and Cheers as well as current trends in nonfiction TV such as network and local news coverage Each analysis of a specific television text is complimented with rigorous theoretical argumentation Students and scholars of communications and television criticism will find Television Studies valuable reading The book begins with a two chapter debate primarily seeking a definition of television studies The debate includes a critical examination of the capitalist institutions that dominate television as an industry Further chapters discuss dramatic television series an examination of the development of the lengthy serial text of Dallas and structural analysis of the pilot episode of Cheers The book contains five essays on nonfiction television including an insiders view of the production and promotion of local TV news and an analysis of CBS and ABC s TV news coverage of South Africa over a two week period in 1987 In a final essay conventional wisdom about the audience is refuted Theatre Record ,2007
