The Bluest Hands:

The Bluest Hands Judith Ann-Marie Byfield,2002 This volume is about women dyers in Abeokuta in Yoruba Nigeria These women offer a rich tapestry of events and personalities that illustrate how colonialism transformed their lives and livelihood

The Bluest Hands Judith A. Byfield,2002 Critical Companion to Toni Morrison Carmen Gillespie,2007 Toni Morrison winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1993 is perhaps the most important living American author This work examines Morrison s life and writing featuring critical analyses of her work and themes as well as entries on related topics and relevant people places and influences

Clothing Robert Ross,2013-05-02 In virtually all the countries of the world men and to a lesser extent women are today dressed in very similar clothing This book gives a compelling account and analysis of the process by which this has come about At the same time it takes seriously those places where for whatever reason this process has not occurred or has been reversed and provides explanations for these developments The first part of this story recounts how the cultural political and economic power of Europe and from the later nineteenth century North America has provided an impetus for the adoption of whatever was at that time standard Western dress Set against this Robert Ross shows how the adoption of European style dress or its rejection has always been a political act performed most frequently in order to claim equality with colonial masters more often a male option or to stress distinction from them which women perhaps under male duress more frequently did The book takes a refreshing global perspective to its subject with all continents and many countries being discussed It investigates not merely the symbolic and message bearing aspects of clothing but also practical matters of production and equally importantly distribution

Cloth in West African History Colleen E. Kriger,2006-06-08 In this holistic approach to the study of textiles and their makers Colleen Kriger charts the role cotton has played in commercial community and labor settings in West Africa By paying close attention to the details of how people made exchanged and wore cotton cloth from before industrialization in Europe to the twentieth century she is able to demonstrate some of the cultural effects of Africa s long involvement in trading contacts with Muslim societies and with Europe Cloth in West African History thus offers a fresh perspective on the history of the region and on the local regional and global processes that shaped it A variety of readers will find its account and insights into the African past and culture valuable and will appreciate the connections made between the local concerns of small scale weavers in African villages the emergence of an indigenous textile industry and its integration into international networks

The Hand of Allah William Le Queux,1914

Dress in the Making of African Identity: A Social and Cultural History of the Yoruba People Bukola Adeyemi Oyeniya,2015-09-08 This is a book on the social and cultural history of Yoruba people a people in southwest Nigeria As the first to provide a comprehensive treatment of Yoruba dress in historical perspective this book is an important contribution to African history in general and the Yoruba cultural history in particular The book illuminates the impact of Christianity Islam and British colonialism on the construction of Yoruba identity and how dress was entangled in that construction It also provides insightful discussions of the transformations in dress culture since independence and demonstrates the importance of dress as a site for contesting and articulating postcolonial Yoruba identity and class structure within the Nigerian national space This book provides many insights into these issues and is thus an invaluable addition to Africana studies anthropology and history An Ethnographical Hand-book for the N.-W.
