use the statistical program SPSS to conduct statistical tests frequently done in SLA research Using data sets from real SLA studies A Guide to Doing Statistics in Second Language Research Using SPSS shows newcomers to both statistics and SPSS how to generate descriptive statistics how to choose a statistical test and how to conduct and interpret a variety of basic statistical tests It covers the statistical tests that are most commonly used in second language research including chi square t tests correlation multiple regression ANOVA and non parametric analogs to these tests The text is abundantly illustrated with graphs and tables depicting actual data sets and exercises throughout the book help readers understand concepts such as the difference between independent and dependent variables and work out statistical analyses Answers to all exercises are provided on the book s companion website along with sample data sets and other supplementary material Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning Eli Hinkel,2011-01-25 This landmark volume provides a broad based comprehensive state of the art overview of current knowledge and research into second language teaching and learning All authors are leading authorities in their areas of expertise The chapters all completely new for Volume 2 are organized in eight thematic sections Social Contexts in Research on Second Language Teaching and Learning Second Language Research Methods Second Language Research and Applied Linguistics Research in Second Language Processes and Development Methods and Instruction in Second Language Teaching Second Language Assessment Ideology Identity Culture and Critical Pedagogy in Second Language Teaching and Learning Language Planning and Policy Changes in Volume 2 captures new and ongoing developments research and trends in the field surveys prominent areas of research that were not covered in Volume 1 includes new authors from Asia Australia Europe and North America to broaden the Handbook s international scope Volume 2 is an essential resource for researchers faculty teachers and students in MA TESL and applied linguistics programs as well as curriculum and material developers Using Statistics for Language Studies Douglas W. Coleman,1990 □ □□□□□□□ Anthony Woods,2000 Using Statistics in Small-Scale Language Education Research Jean L. Turner,2014-02-18 Assuming no familiarity with statistical methods this text for language education research methods and statistics courses provides detailed guidance and instruction on principles of designing conducting interpreting reading and evaluating statistical research done in classroom settings or with a small number of participants While three different types of statistics are addressed descriptive parametric non parametric the emphasis is on non parametric statistics because they are appropriate when the number of participants is small and the conditions for use of parametric statistics are not satisfied The emphasis on non parametric statistics is unique and complements the growing interest among second and foreign language educators in doing statistical research in classrooms Designed to help students and other language education researchers to identify and use analyses that are appropriate for their studies taking into account the number of participants and the shape of the data distribution the text includes sample studies to illustrate the important points in each chapter and exercises to promote understanding of the concepts and the development of practical research skills Mathematical operations are explained in detail and step by step illustrations in the use of R a very powerful online freeware program to perform all calculations are provided A Companion Website extends and enhances the text with PowerPoint presentations illustrating how to carry out calculations and use R practice exercises with answer keys data sets in Excel MS DOS format and quiz midterm and final problems with answer keys

Statistical Methods in Language and Linguistic Research Pascual Cantos Gómez, 2013-01-01 The linguistic community tend to regard statistical methods or more generally quantitative techniques with a certain amount of fear and suspicion There is a feeling that statistics falls in the province of science and mathematics and such methods may destroy the magic of the literary text This book seeks to make quantitative methods and statistical techniques less forbidding and show how they can contribute to linguistic analysis and research It present some mathematical and statistical properties of natural languages and introduces some of the quantitative methods which are of the most value in working empirically with texts and corpora The various issues are illustrated with helpful examples from the most basic descriptive techniques to decision taking techniques and to more sophisticated multivariate statistical language models
