

An artistic illustration of a woman's face with dark, wavy hair. The top of her head is highlighted in a bright orange color, and within this area, a white brain is depicted with several white, swirling lines representing thought patterns. The background consists of broad, expressive brushstrokes in shades of orange, red, and blue. The overall style is painterly and expressive.

Re Visioning Composition Textbooks Gary S. Zabolny, Xin Liu Gale, Fredric G. Gale, 1999-01-01 Explores the cultures ideologies traditions and the material and political conditions that influence the writing and publishing of textbooks

Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory s critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works

Landmark Essays on ESL Writing Tony Silva, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2013-10-31 In recent years the number of nonnative speakers of English in colleges and universities in North America has increased dramatically As a result more and more writing teachers have found themselves working with these English as a Second Language ESL students in writing classes that are designed primarily with monolingual native English speaking students in mind Since the majority of institutions require these students to enroll in writing courses at all levels it is becoming increasingly important for all writing teachers to be aware of the presence and special linguistic and cultural needs of ESL writers This increase in the ESL population has over the last 40 years been paralleled by a similar growth in research on ESL writing and writing instruction research that writing teachers need to be familiar with in order to work effectively with ESL writers in writing classrooms of all levels and types Until recently however this body of knowledge has not been very accessible to writing teachers and researchers who do not specialize in second language research and instruction This volume is an attempt to remedy this problem by providing a sense of how ESL writing scholarship has evolved over the last four decades It brings together 15 articles that address various issues in second language writing in general and ESL writing in particular In selecting articles for inclusion the editors tried to take a principled approach The articles included in this volume have been chosen from a large database of publications in second language writing The editors looked for works that mirrored the state of the art when they were published and made a conscious effort to represent a wide variety of perspectives contributions and issues in the field To provide a sense of the evolution of the field this collection is arranged in chronological order

Linguistics, Stylistics, and the Teaching of Composition Donald McQuade,1979 Georgetown University Round Table on Languages and Linguistics (GURT) 1991: Linguistics and Language Pedagogy James E. Alatis,1992-04-01 L2 Writing Beyond English Nur Yiğitoğlu Aptoula,Melinda Reichelt,2019-04-10 Most of what we know about writing in a second or foreign language L2 is based on conclusions drawn from research on L2 writing in English However a significant quantity of L2 writing and writing instruction takes place in languages other than English and so there is a need for studies that look beyond English The chapters in this book focus on languages other than English and investigate curricular issues multiple languages in contact conflict in L2 writing instruction and student attitudes toward pedagogical practices The collection as a whole makes a valuable contribution to the study of L2 writing and it will also prove an essential resource for instructors of second and foreign language writing

Thinking in Writing Donald McQuade,Robert Atwan,1998 Presents a rhetorically arranged reader that shows students how underlying rhetorical structures stimulate and direct clear thinking and effective writing This work also reflects the contemporary and practical work done on the interconnectedness of composition and cognition

Practical Pictorial Composition Edwin George Lutz,1926 Rhythmic Analysis of Dance Compositions Katherine M. Thielen,1930 Language for Men of Affairs,1919 Reading in the Composition Classroom Joan Carson,Ilona Leki,1993 Plain Principles of Prose Composition William Minto,1893 Enlarged Practice-book in English Composition Alfred Marshall Hitchcock,1909 The Book of Diogenes Laertius Richard Hope,1930 The Putnam Collegiate Guide to English Composition Ronald Dieb,Marguerite Smith Holton,1966 A Course in English for Engineers...: The engineer's speaking and writing, in general Carl Albert Naether,George Francis Richardson,1930
