Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo James Gourley,2013-06-06

Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo starts from a simple premise that the events of the 11th of September 2001 must have had a major effect on two New York residents and two of the seminal authors of American letters Pynchon and DeLillo By examining implicit and explicit allusion to these events in their work it becomes apparent that both consider 9 11 a crucial event and that it has profoundly impacted their work From this important point the volume focuses on the major change identifiable in both authors work a change in the perception and conception of time This is not however a simple change after 2001 It allows at the same time a re examination of both authors work and the acknowledgment of time as a crucial concept to both authors throughout their careers Engaging with several theories of time and their reiteration and examination in both authors work this volume contributes both to the understanding of literary time and to the work of Pynchon and DeLillo

McCormick,2014-07-01 Three African American men while exploring a cave in Virginia accidently get caught up in a time travel experiment taking place 200yrs in the future These scientists have chosen this deep cave for their experiments

Choosing it for its isolation which allows it to remain unchanged over a long period of time it also offers a safety factor that includes shielding living things from their experiments Unfortunately they did not take into account those who loved to explore these caves The effect of the experiment sends two of the men into the year 1801 During some of the darkest years of
