Journal of Youth Services in Libraries, 1995 Literature for Young People on War and Peace, 1989-11-20 This annotated bibliography concentrates on books dealing with an important category of literature for youths that of war and peace The number of books for young people on this subject is surprisingly large yet it is often ignored Though such books don't form the center of children's literature they do represent an important portion of it revealing to children vital truths about the human condition and how nobly humans can act under extreme hardship The book includes a number of different types of works dealing with war and peace e.g. allegories and parables picture books poetry biographies Revolutionary and Civil War books tales of the Holocaust and Hiroshima and stories dealing with pacifism Each entry includes author title publishing data and age level as well as an annotation that assesses the entry's pertinence quality and value In addition to this bibliography for youths there is an annotated bibliography of materials for adults that covers how to discuss the subject of war and peace with young people The volume is also extensively cross referenced and indexed providing access to authors illustrators and titles subject entries such as warriors and pacifists and categories of material such as parables or poetry It will be an important reference work for teachers dealing with the subject of conflict and for courses in education and the social sciences and a worthwhile addition to college university and public libraries

The Holocaust in Literature for Youth Edward T. Sullivan, 1999 The Holocaust in Literature for Youth provides classroom teachers and public and school librarians a practical comprehensive resource guide to all of the literature available for children and young adults on the subject Holocaust education should be more than just the study of the names dates and places it must go beyond the superficial highlights of the textbooks An outstanding resource well organized and informative

Re-examining the Holocaust Through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E. Williams, 2009 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature which have been the subject of controversies in the US Europe and the Middle East Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism national and comparative literatures theater film history literary criticism religion and Holocaust studies this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context
