Tax Credits And Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations:

Tax Credits and Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations James Ackley Maxwell,1987-02-02 Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations in the United States George F. Break,1967 USA Conference paper and summary of discussions on the need for a fiscal policy based on local level state and national level cooperation includes expenditure for education and for research and welfare taxation as part of the gross national product urban area fiscal problems forecasts etc Statistical tables Conference held in Washington 1965 November 18 and 19 Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations United States. Department of the Treasury,1943 Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations Ronald C. Fisher,2012-12-06 The main objective of this book is to restate the important theories and evidence from economic analysis concerning intergovernmental fiscal issues More importantly the second objective of the book is to identify gaps in knowledge empirical uncertainties and missing theoretical structures and then to establish a preliminary agenda for new research on this topic The book is organized in two sections The first covers the core body of intergovernmental fiscal relations including optimal size for jurisdictions and assignment of public sector functions the formulation and execution of tax policy in an intergovernmental setting and the appropriate structure and use of intergovernmental transfers In the second section the core knowledge is applied to four major policy areas education welfare fiscal interaction in urban areas and economic development In thinking about a new research agenda the authors call for more current and authoritative estimates of fiscal incidence including interjurisdictional spillovers for more fundamental research about the federation process and effects of consolidation for new evidence about the long run general equilibrium effects of interjurisdictional competition and for basic research about the choice process and establishment of intergovernmental fiscal institutions and policies by federal and subnational governments
