

The View From Eighty

Joseph Brooker

The View From Eighty:

The View from 80 Malcolm Cowley, 1982 Malcolm Cowley's account of life in one's ninth decade began as a widely hailed award-winning article in Life magazine. Enriched and enlarged with further reflections, anecdotes, and readers' responses to the original piece, it has become an elegant and touching contemporary classic. Occupying the "Other" Robin Gerster, Christine de Matos, 2009-01-14

In late 1945 Australia eagerly put up its hand to join the American-led military occupation of war-devastated Japan. The old enemy was still hated, yet the Australian involvement was motivated by ideals of democratic reconstruction rather than retribution. In the age of Iraq, when Australia has again participated in a US occupation of a rogue non-Western state humbled in war, it is time to consider troubling questions surrounding the nation's engagement in contentious overseas occupations. Can Western conceptions of democracy be imposed militarily on other societies? To what extent has Australia's willingness to support the United States been an expression of independent policy-making or meek acquiescence in the neocolonial imperatives of the global superpower? How do occupations differ? When does intervention become occupation? To what extent are entrenched cultural attitudes to race and religion a factor in decisions to occupy, and on how these occupations are perceived at home? And how has the Australian media influenced public attitudes to these ventures? This collection of essays by leading Australian academics and commentators places Australia's historical role as an occupier on the critical map. Now, as the country juggles complex national, regional, and international alliances and obligations, this conversation is as compelling as it is belated.

Jonathan Lethem and the Galaxy of Writing Joseph Brooker, 2019-12-12

Author of Motherless Brooklyn and The Fortress of Solitude, Jonathan Lethem is one of the most celebrated and significant American writers working today. This new scholarly study draws on a deep knowledge of all Lethem's work to explore the range of his writing, from his award-winning fiction to his work in comics and criticism. Reading Lethem in relation to five themes crucial to his work, Joseph Brooker considers influence and intertextuality, the role of genres, such as crime science fiction and the Western the imaginative production of worlds superheroes and comic book traditions and the representation of New York City Close readings of Lethem s fiction are contextualized by reference to broader conceptual and comparative frames as well as to Lethem s own voluminous non fictional writing and his adaptation of precursors from Franz Kafka to Raymond Chandler Rich in critical insight Jonathan Lethem and the Galaxy of Writing demonstrates how an understanding of this author illuminates contemporary literature and culture at large
