The Violence Mythos:

The Violence Mythos Barbara Whitmer, 1997-10-02 Presents a powerful thesis on the nature and significance of violence and its mythos in Western culture and offers an alternative interactive mythos that bridges the mind body split inherent in most theories of violence The Violence Mythos presents us with a powerful thesis on the nature and significance of violence in human society It develops its argument with passion and concern combined with a lucid and sensitive intelligence The book is sharp and to the point challenging any complacency with its idealism and its commitment to change Whitmer is an author with attitude and with spirit The violence mythos is a collection of beliefs attitudes behaviors and social expectations about violence in Western culture It includes the war hero myth the victimizer victim exploitative dynamic the theory of innate violence the mind body dualism the myth of male aggression and the subordination of women the marginalization of trust and the development of technology in a tradition of destructive instrumentalism At the core of the violence mythos is the belief that humans are innately violent The cultural system is then able to legitimate rationalize and use violence to control violent humans and thus becomes a self reinforcing self perpetuating system of direct and indirect means of social control This is the repetitive cycle of violence in trauma reenactment transferred intergenerationally through the roles and rituals of the hero perpetrator myth The cycle ceases with the understanding of trauma in the trust triad of the interdependent mythos

Picking Fights with the Gods Paul Gilk,2016-08-04 The common understanding of apocalypse suggests End Times Armageddon and the end of the world But the Greek word apokalypsis means none of these things What it does mean is uncovering disclosing and revelatory That apocalypse is so widely misunderstood as predestined disaster isn't due to natural evolution in meaning To penetrate the misuse of apokalypsis is to discover mythic misrepresentation That is apocalypse doesn't generate End Times but just the opposite End Times compels apokalypsis The actual threat of End Times explicitly so with weapons of mass destruction and Anthropocene climate change forces thoughtful people into a search for fundamental causes Where do these destructive energies originate Why are we so reluctant to recognize the obvious consequences and resistant to embrace available remedies Why do we persist in denial and indifference In these essays Paul Gilk explores the underlying cultural and religious conventions both conservative and liberal that constitute our resistance and refusal To disclose and uncover those conventions to dissolve our oblivion is to awaken to apokalypsis and to realize the depth of our captivity within prevailing mythology both religious and civilizational If End Times is the disease apokalypsis is the cure
