They Tell A Story:

Backstory Preaching Lisa Cressman, 2018-05-08 Instead of being a dour task on the checklist what if the process of homily prep renewed you Instead of feeling insecure about your message what if your skills made you confident to preach a consistently clear message of Good News authentic to you relevant to your listeners holding their attention and inviting transformation Backstory Preaching Integrating Life Spirituality and Craft shows you how By integrating your life and spirituality with the practical skills necessary for effective preaching you can move beyond the boredom stress or insecurity of preaching so it is no longer you who preach but Christ who preaches in you By connecting with God in the midst of your sermon prep the Gospel will be spread deeper and further God's joy and yours will be made complete How Museums Tell Stories Amelia Wong, 2025-03-27 How Museums Tell Stories explains how museums work as a form of media that narrates stories intentionally and unintentionally Story in life and in museums is a phenomenon that emerges as people perceive represent and interpret the qualities of tellability and narrativity in relation to stimuli Tellability is noteworthiness it attracts our attention Narrativity is a set of elements that enables us to perceive a story is being or could be told The book discusses how and why these qualities are so present in museums and how they enable physical institutions to tell stories in many forms at many scales in many styles of representation and to varying degrees Drawing on conceptions of narrative from literary theory film psychology and cognitive science Wong offers a shared vocabulary for understanding and analyzing how story manifests in museums at the level of objects collections exhibitions and space How Museums Tell Stories will be essential reading for researchers and students interested in how and why museums engage audiences as well as museum and cultural heritage practitioners seeking concepts and analytical tools for approaching and evaluating their work more critically and conscientiously Minnesota School Library List, 1912 Telling Stories Jenn Fishman, Amy C. Kimme Hea, 2023-07-23 In Telling Stories more than a dozen longitudinal writing researchers look beyond conventional project findings to story their work and in doing so offer otherwise unavailable glimpses into the logics and logistics of long range studies of writing The result is a volume that centers interrelations among people places and politics across two decades of praxis and an array of educational sites two year colleges a senior military college an adult literacy center a small liberal arts college and both public and private four year universities Contributors share direct knowledge of longitudinal writing research citing project data e.g. interview transcripts research notes and journals descriptions drawn from memory and extended personal reflections The resulting stories tempered by the research and scholarship of others convey a sense of longitudinal research as a lived activity as well as a prominent and consequential approach to inquiry Yet Telling Stories is not a how to guide nor is it written for longitudinal researchers alone Instead this volume addresses issues about writing research that are germane to all who conduct or count on it Such topics include building and sustaining good interpersonal research relations ethically negotiating the institutional power dynamics that undergird writing research effectively using knowledge from longitudinal studies to advocate for writers and writing educators and improving both conceptual and concrete resources for long range research in writing studies

Stories Pictures Tell ... Flora Leona Carpenter, 1918 Art supervisors in the public schools assign picture study work in each grade recommending the study of certain pictures by well known masters As Supervisor of Drawing I found that the children enjoyed this work but that the teachers felt incompetent to conduct the lessons as they lacked time to look up the subject and to gather adequate material Recourse to a great many books was necessary and often while much information could usually be found about the artist very little was available about his pictures Hence I began collecting information about the pictures and preparing the lessons for the teachers just as I would give them myself to pupils of their grade My plan does not include many pictures during the year as this is to be only a part of the art work and is not intended to take the place of drawing The lessons in this grade are planned for the usual drawing period of from twenty to thirty minutes and have been given in that time successfully However the most satisfactory way of using the books is as supplementary readers thus permitting each child to study the pictures and read the stories himself Preface

Telling Stories the Kiowa Way Gus Palmer, 2003-04-01 Among the Kiowa storytelling takes place under familiar circumstances A small group of relatives and close friends gather Tales are informative as well as entertaining Joking and teasing are key components Group participation is expected And outsiders are seldom involved This book explores the traditional art of storytelling still practiced by Kiowas today as Gus Palmer shares conversations held with storytellers Combining narrative personal experience and ethnography in an original and artful way Palmer an anthropologist raised in a traditional Kiowa family shows not only that storytelling remains an integral part of Kiowa culture but also that narratives embedded in everyday conversation are the means by which Kiowa cultural beliefs and values are maintained Palmer s study features contemporary oral storytelling and other discourses assembled over two and a half years of fieldwork that demonstrate how Kiowa storytellers practice their art Focusing on stories and their meaning within a narrative and ethnographic context he draws on a range of material including dream stories stories about the coming of T im the spirit of the Sun Dance to the Kiowas and stories of tricksters and tribal heroes He shows how storytellers employ the narrative devices of actively participating in oral narratives leaving stories wide open or telling stories within stories And he demonstrates how stories can reflect a wide range of sensibilities from magical realism to gossip Firmly rooted in current linguistic anthropological thought Telling Stories the Kiowa Way is a work of analysis and interpretation that helps us understand story within its larger cultural contexts It combines the author s unique literary talent with his people s equally unique perspective on anthropological questions in a text that can be enjoyed on multiple levels by scholars and general readers alike China Sunday School Journal ,1913 Cherokee Stories of the Turtle Island Liars' Club Christopher B.
