collaborator of Adolf Hitler and Heinrich Himmler was responsible for the deaths of at least 1.5 million people in three Nazi camps in occupied Poland: Treblinka, Sobibor, and Belzec. Along with Rudolf Hoss, Globocnik may be named as one of the first industrial style killers in history. Betraying his homeland by conspiring with Hitler to destroy Austria's independence, he then launched the Generalplan Ost, which was to expel over 100 million Slavs into Western Siberia and played a pivotal role in Aktion Reinhardt, directing the entire program from early 1942 until September 1943 and writing letters to Himmler detailing goods looted from his victims. Globocnik's Lublin District gulag was not merely a vehicle for a well-organized pogrom; it also involved creating a highly organized network of ghettos and forced labor camps. By the winter of 1943, nearly all of the Jews of the Lublin District had been exterminated, leaving only skilled laborers used in Globocnik's industrial conglomerates. His ethnic cleansing teams, assisted by Ukrainian policing units, also cleared the Polish peasant farmers from the Zamosc Lands. Very little has been published on Globocnik, most especially the four years he spent in Lublin. This authoritative biography details every aspect of his life, from his ancestry to his suicide after being captured. Information has been researched from more than thirty international archives, Globocnik's SS file, extensive interviews with his lover Irmgard Rickheim and others, a wealth of letters, both personal and formal, internal memos, and official reports of the SS, diaries, and the reminiscences of survivors. Includes rare photographs, many from the collection of Irmgard Rickheim.

Bitter Prerequisites William Laird Kleine-Ahlbrandt, 2001. A dozen Purdue University Jewish faculty members, 10 men and 2 women, who were forced to flee their homes in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Hungary during the Holocaust, tell their stories in a series of interviews conducted by Kleine-Ahlbrandt, a history professor at Purdue and the author of The Burden of Victory: France, Britain, and the Enforcement of the Versailles Peace, 1919-1925 (1995). Some of the refugees were unable to escape and survived through hiding and subterfuge or endured the camps. The interviewees, some speaking out for the first time after more than half a century, often found it difficult to recall painful experiences. They discussed the problems of growing up Jewish, especially after the enactment of anti-Jewish legislation, the importance of religion, God, and traditions in their lives, and adjusting to life in the U.S. where finding employment was just one of many obstacles. The author complements the interviews with commentary for readers unfamiliar with the history of World War I.
