Socializing The Young:

Socializing the Young Dennis R. Bryson, 2002-04-30 The Rockefeller philanthropies and the Macy Foundation launched a series of programs during the 1920s and 1930s aimed at the production and dissemination of knowledge on the rearing and education of the young Thus millions of dollars in foundation funds were put into projects in child study and parent education the reorganization of secondary education child growth and development culture and personality studies and the personality development of young children by the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial the General Education Board the Macy Foundation during the period 1923 to 1941 Informing these projects was a coherent sociopolitical agenda in order to promote a stable pacified social order the foundation projects attempted to foster the formation of friendly sane and sociable personalities who would avoid conflict and other kinds of anti social behavior Thus the micropractices of private life especially child rearing and familial and marital practices were targeted by a sociopolitical scheme oriented toward the reconstruction and pacification of social life The book examines in depth the foundation programs and the deliberations of officers and trustees as they designed and implemented these programs Special attention is paid to the role of Lawrence K Frank in the creation and direction of the foundation programs Socialization of the Young Child Marike W. De Witt, Mariette I. Booyen, 1995-01-01 Identity and African American Men Kenneth Maurice Tyler, 2014-07-16 Kenneth Maurice Tyler identifies and describes the multiple identity components of young African American men using theoretical and empirical literatures from education and the social sciences Identity and African American Men Exploring the Content of Our Characterization provides a comprehensive research based account of the ideologies and mindsets of many young African American men The book critically discusses eight identity components that young African American men begin to negotiate during their adolescent years These identity components include gender sexual racial ethnic cultural socioeconomic athletic and academic identity Identity and African American Men makes a unique contribution to the literature by offering a conceptual framework that identifies the multiple identity components possessed by young African American men Such a framework expands the conversation about African American men and their behaviors by broadening the understanding of who these individuals are the identities they possess and how their identity based attitudes and orientations may influence the behaviors exhibited by them Manufacturing Desire Arthur Asa Berger, 2017-07-12 The average person in America watches four hours of television per day and spends the equivalent of nine years of his or her life in front of the television set If the attention most people devote to popular culture listening to the news watching soap operas reading the comics were added up it would reveal that most people spend an enormous amount of time with popular culture which becomes in large measure their culture Manufacturing Desire is a study of how the mass media broadcast or spread various popular arts further how the media and popular arts play a major role in shaping our everyday lives The television shows we watch the movies we see the radio programs we listen to and all the comic strips we read influence social behavior

They give us ideas about what is good and evil about how to solve problems and about how we should relate to others If we understand this says Berger then the way we think about our media influenced culture will be far different than if we see popular culture as mindless entertainment Berger provides an analysis of the way popular culture and the mass media simultaneously reflect and affect various aspects of American culture and society He examines commercials television shows comics film humor and everyday life in terms of what beliefs and values are found in them what attitudes toward ourselves and our societies are contained in them how they achieve their effects and what they reflect about present day American culture and society This book is analysis of the impact mass media have across America cross culturally and internationally Manufacturing Desire will provide the general reader as well as specialists in communication and information sociology and psychology with a better understanding of the effects of mass media and popular culture on contemporary society
