Alternative Provision Huh Mary Myatt, John Tomsett, 2024-05-24 For one reason or another mainstream education does not suit every young person Many young people are educated in alternative provision which is defined by the Department for Education as educational provision for pupils who because of exclusion illness or other reasons would not otherwise receive suitable education As of 2023 over 25 000 young people are enrolled in alternative provision and those numbers continue to rise It is essential then that the curriculum on offer in alternative provision is exemplary as these young people already facing extraordinary challenges need the very best if they are going to progress successfully into adulthood Huh is the Egyptian god of endlessness creativity fertility and regeneration He is the deity Mary Myatt and John Tomsett have adopted as their god of the curriculum Their Huh series of books focuses on how practitioners design the curriculum for the young people in their schools The Huh project is founded on conversations with colleagues doing great work across the education sector In AP Huh

Mary Myatt and John Tomsett discuss curriculum provision for pupils attending alternative provision with some of the leading experts in the field Mary and John interviewed pupils parents teachers headteachers CEOs educational consultants and lecturers They then edited the transcriptions of those interviews to provide an ambitious thoughtful nuanced and challenging vision of what the best possible provision looks like for children who find that mainstream schooling is not for them The challenging conversations that comprise AP Huh paint a positive picture that is hugely hopeful for the future of the curriculum in our alternative provision settings
