Kupers, 1990      Cumulated Index Medicus , 1990      Advanced Case Management Norma Radol Raiff, Barbara K. Shore, 1993-08-19 This overview of issues pertinent to case management in the social services illustrates the diversity of innovative approaches which have been developed These include new forms of outreach and assessment alternative methods for engaging family members and natural supports and strategies attuned to the needs of culturally diverse constituencies The degree to which existing services are available to meet clients needs and variations in service philosophies and resources are among the issues discussed Examples from many practice settings illustrate the adaptability of case management      A Pragmatic Approach to Psychiatric Rehabilitation: Lessons from Chicago's Thresholds Program Jerry Dincin, 1995-12-27 There are three components in psychiatric rehabilitation medication the rehabilitation relationship and rehabilitation program efforts This volume deals with all three assessing their importance and explaining how they can be integrated in comprehensive psychiatric rehabilitation The example used throughout is the program approach at Thresholds a Chicago based agency for psychiatric rehabilitation all the contributors have held important staff roles at Thresholds This volume contains the contributors current thoughts on psychiatric rehabilitation illustrated by the story of how and why Thresholds operates as it does and how it arrived where it is today This is the 68th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Mental Health Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page      Public Health Service Publication , 1964      Women, Men, & Gender Mary Roth Walsh, 1997-01-01 Offers pro and con positions on eighteen gender studies issues including research priorities pornography sexual orientation gender impact on knowledge discrimination and working mothers      Managed Behavioral Health Care: Current Realities and Future Potential David Mechanic, 1998-07-14 Discussions of managed care are dominated by emotion and rhetoric and failure to differentiate among the varying structures approaches and strategies that are called managed care These discussions rarely take account of the complexity of the arena or the failures of mental health systems prior to the introduction of managed care If we are to shape managed care constructively we first need clear understanding of how it is structured how it functions and when it performs well and poorly This should help identify how practices can best be monitored evaluated and if necessary regulated This book will help readers along this path This is the 78th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Mental Health Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals section      Family Interventions in Mental Illness Agnes B. Hatfield, 1994      Assessing and Treating Victims of Violence John Briere, 1994 Recent research has shown that a significant proportion of North American children are sexually physically or psychologically abused each year and that the number of reports of adult rape spousal abuse and physical assault by strangers continues to grow Beyond the epidemiology of societal violence per se is its impact on the mental health of those who live in our culture Scientists and clinicians are beginning to trace the genesis of a number of psychological symptoms and disorders to childhood or adult traumatic events many of which involve interpersonal violence As a result a new specialty of mental health practitioners has evolved one specifically concerned with the assessment and treatment of psychological trauma At the same time however the typical front line clinician is bound to encounter children and adults who have been victimized and who present complex post traumatic sequelae It is for both the trauma specialist and the general clinician that this sourcebook was developed Although the subject matter is disturbing growing assessment and treatment technology give us new hope for treating victims of violence This is the 64th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Mental Health Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page
