When Values Conflict:

The Psychology of Values Clive Seligman, James M. Olson, Mark P. Zanna, 2013-05-13 The eighth Ontario Symposium brought together an international group of scholars who work in the area of the psychology of values Among the categories these experts address are the conceptualizations of values value systems and value attitude behavior relations methodological issues the role of values in specific domains such as prejudice commitment and deservingness and the transmission of values through family media and culture Each chapter in the volume illustrates both the diversity and vitality of research on the psychology of values Equal Opportunity Program Guide United States. Bureau of Naval Personnel. Human Resource Management Division, 1977 The Social Psychology of Politics Victor C. Ottati, 2002-04-30 Early studies of political behavior examined the sociological attitudinal and rational determinants of political behavior However none of these approaches provided a descriptive model of how people process political information and make political decisions under naturalistic conditions that involve limited cognitive capacity and motivation Fortunately contemporary approaches within the field of political psychology have begun to address these concerns Inspired by recent advances in the area of social psychology researchers are rapidly developing more realistic and detailed models of the psychological process that determines political judgements and behavior Early attempts to merely predict political behavior have been replaced by an attempt to describe the actual process whereby individuals gather interpret exchange and combine information to arrive at a political judgement or decision This volume provides comprehensive coverage of this pioneering era of research in political psychology

The Implications of Value Conflict Marina Kouzakova, Naomi Ellemers, Sophia Fieke Harinck, Daan Scheepers, 2011 We present two studies demonstrating the implications of having different values vs instrumental concerns in a situation where people take conflicting positions Study 1 N 266 examined how people respond to a range of conflict issues that were framed either as referring to conflicting values or as referring to conflicting interests Study 2 N 77 used a more immersive methodology in which participants were led to consider either their values or interests in taking up a particular position after which they were presented with a confederate who took up the opposite position Results of both studies converge to demonstrate that framing a particular conflict issue in terms of values causes people to experience more self involvement and to perceive less common ground This is seen as a potential explanation of why value conflicts tend to more easily escalate than conflicts of interests but also offers scope for interventions that try to de escalate and resolve the conflict by emphasizing instrumental rather than value differences
