Taphonomy A Process Approach:

Taphonomy Ronald E. Martin, 1999-10-28 Taphonomy A Process Approach is the first book to review the entire field of taphonomy or the science of fossil preservation. It describes the formation of animal and plant fossils in marine and terrestrial settings and how this affects deciphering the ecology and extinction of past lifeforms and the environments in which they lived. The volume emphasises a process approach to taphonomy and reviews the taphonomic behaviour of all important taxa, plant and animal. It will be useful to anyone interested in the preservation of fossils and the formation of fossil assemblages but it is aimed primarily at advanced students and professionals working in paleontology, stratigraphy, sedimentology, climate modeling and biogeochemistry.

High-Resolution Approaches in Stratigraphic Paleontology P.J. Harries, 2008-07-30 This volume delves into a spectrum of theoretical as well as applied aspects of high resolution stratigraphic approaches in paleontology. It explores how increasingly detailed knowledge of the fossil record can enhance our understanding of the evolution of life on Earth and also allows geoscientists to address a broad range of important evolutionary and environmental questions in this arena. A zipped version of the program CONOP9 2007 along with read me files, sample files and other documentation are available via a web site, see below. An earlier version of CONOP9 was initially supplied with High Resolution Approaches in Stratigraphic Paleontology, P.J. Harries, editor and described in Chapter 13 of that volume. This is an updated version of the program and the documentation supplied with this version supersedes the information supplied in that chapter. Paleoecology David J. Bottjer, 2016-02-10 PALEOECOLOGY Past Present and Future Paleocology is a discipline that uses evidence from fossils to provide an understanding of ancient environments and the ecological history of life through geological time. This text covers the fundamental approaches that have provided the foundation for present paleoecological understanding and outlines new research areas in paleoecology for managing future environmental and ecological change. Topics include the use of actualism in paleoecology, development of paleoecological models for paleoenvironmental reconstruction, taphonomy and exceptional fossil preservation, evolutionary paleoecology and ecological change through time and conservation paleoecology. Data from studies of invertebrates, vertebrates, plants and microfossils with added emphasis on bioturbation and microbial sedimentary structures are discussed. Examples from marine and terrestrial environments are covered with a particular focus on periods of great ecological change such as the Precambrian-Cambrian transition and intervals of mass extinction. Readership: This book is designed for advanced undergraduates and beginning graduate students in the earth and biological sciences as well as researchers and applied scientists in a range of related disciplines.

Forensic Anthropology Max M. Houck, 2016-12-30 Forensic Anthropology serves as a graduate level text for those studying and teaching forensic anthropology as well as an excellent reference for forensic anthropologists, libraries or for use in casework. Covers taphonomy, recovery and analysis, identification, statistical interpretation and professional issues Edited by a world renowned leading forensic expert the Advanced Forensic Science Series grew out of the recommendations from the 2009 NAS Report Strengthening Forensic Science A Path Forward and is a long overdue solution for the forensic science community Provides the basic principles of forensic science and an overview of forensic anthropology Contains sections on taphonomy recovery analysis pathology and identification Covers statistical interpretation of evidence using the classical frequentist approach and Bayesian analysis measurement uncertainty and standard methods Includes a section on professional issues such as from crime scene to court expert witness testimony and health and safety Incorporates effective pedagogy key terms review questions discussion questions and additional reading suggestions

Microfacies of Carbonate Rocks Erik Flügel, 2010-07-08 This unparalleled reference synthesizes the methods used in microfacies analysis and details the potential of microfacies in evaluating depositional environments and diagenetic history and in particular the application of microfacies data in the study of carbonate hydrocarbon reservoirs and the provenance of archaeological materials Nearly 230 instructive plates 30 in color showing thin section photographs with detailed explanations form a central part of the content Helpful teaching learning aids include detailed captions for hundreds of microphotographs boxed summaries of technical terms many case studies guidelines for the determination and evaluation of microfacies criteria self testing exercises for recognition and characterization skills and more

Integrative Approaches to Human Health and Evolution Timothy G. Bromage, 2006 Contained in this book are the proceedings of the Fundacion Ramon Areces International Symposium concerning research in human health and evolution subject areas Their combined study represents not only scientific balance but also the potential for profound novel insights on the human condition
