The Underside Of Toronto:

The Underside of Toronto William Edward Mann, 1970 Studies of social problems in Toronto The Underside of Toronto William Edward Mann, 1972 Toronto's Poor Bryan D. Palmer, Gaétan Héroux, 2016-11-23 Toronto's Poor reveals the long and too often forgotten history of poor people's resistance. It details how people without housing, people living in poverty and unemployed people have struggled to survive and secure food and shelter in the wake of the many panics, downturns, recessions and depressions that punctuate the years from the 1830s to the present. Written by a historian of the working class and a poor people's activist, this is a rebellious book that links past and present in an almost two hundred year story of struggle and resistance. It is about men, women and children relegated to lives of desperation by an uncaring system and how they have refused to be defeated. In that refusal and in winning better conditions for themselves, Toronto's poor create the possibility of a new kind of society, one ordered not by acquisition and individual advance but by appreciations of collective rights and responsibilities.

Tiff Sherrill Grace, 2020-08-25 Timothy Findley 1930-2002 was one of Canada's foremost writers, an award-winning novelist, playwright and short story writer who began his career as an actor in London, England. Findley was instrumental in the development of Canadian literature and publishing in the 1970s and 80s. During those years, he became a vocal advocate for human rights and the anti-war movement. His writing and interviews reveal a man concerned with the state of the world, a man who believed in the importance of not giving in to despair despite his constant struggle with depression. Findley believed in the power of imagination and creativity to save us. Tiff: A Life of Timothy Findley is the first full biography of this eminent Canadian writer. Sherrill Grace provides insight into Findley's life and struggles through an exploration of his private journals and his relationships with family, his beloved partner Bill Whitehead and his close friends including Alec Guinness, William Hutt and Margaret Laurence. Based on many interviews and exhaustive archival research, this biography explores Findley's life and work, the issues that consumed him and his often profound depression over the evils of the twentieth century. Shining through his darkness are Findley's generous humour, his unforgettable characters and his hope for the future. These qualities inform canonical works like The Wars (1977), Famous Last Words (1981), Not Wanted on the Voyage (1984) and The Piano Man's Daughter (1995).

Doing Ethics in a Pluralistic World Phyllis D. Airhart, Marilyn J. Legge, Gary L. Redcliffe, 2002-05-30 Doing Ethics in a Pluralistic World is an apt title for this collection of essays in honour of Roger C. Hutchinson, who over many decades has encouraged and participated in shaping a Canadian contextual social ethics. His abiding interest in social ethics and in religious engagement with public issues is reflected in his life's work seeking the consensus and self-knowledge required to achieve cooperation in the search for a just, participatory and sustainable society. One of Roger Hutchinson's many notable accomplishments is his development of a method of dialogue for ethical clarification in situations of diversity. Some of the essays collected here apply this method to specific issues, while others discuss how religious persons and organizations can and do cooperate in a pluralistic world to achieve social and ecological well being All essays are of keen interest to those concerned with the role and function of ethics at the matrix of religious conviction and social transformation For nearly three decades Roger Hutchinson has been based at Victoria University in Toronto first in religious studies then at Emmanuel College where he completed his teaching career as professor of church and society while serving as principal from 1996 to 2001 Minority Groups in Metropolitan Toronto,1973 Power House,1914 The Canadian Horticulturist and Beekeeper,1920 Canadian Horticulturist and Beekeeper,1913 Toronto Since 1918 James T.
