Yesterday's Addicts H. Wayne Morgan, 1974 Yesterday's Addicts; American Society and Drug Abuse, 1865-1920
Howard Wayne Morgan, 1974-01-01 Articles and reports document the drug problem in America and public and government concern in the period between the Civil War and World War I Drug Addiction Research and the Health of Women Cora Lee Wetherington, Adele B. Roman, 1998 Rehab on the Range Holly M. Karibo, 2024-11-19 2025 Coral Horton Tullis Memorial Prize Texas State Historical Association The first study of the Fort Worth Narcotic Farm an institution that played a critical role in fusing the War on Drugs mass incarceration and public health in the American West In 1929 the United States government approved two ground breaking and controversial drug addiction treatment programs At a time when fears about a supposed rise in drug use reached a fevered pitch the emergence of the nation's first narcotic farms in Fort Worth Texas and Lexington Kentucky marked a watershed moment in the treatment of addiction Rehab on the Range is the first in depth history of the Fort Worth Narcotic Farm and its impacts on the American West Throughout its operation from the 1930s to the 1970s the institution was the only federally funded drug treatment center west of the Mississippi River Designed to blend psychiatric treatment physical rehabilitation and vocational training the Narcotic Farm its proponents argued would transform American treatment policies for the better The reality was decidedly more complicated Holly M Karibo tells the story of how this institution once framed as revolutionary for addiction care ultimately contributed to the turn towards incarceration as the solution to the nation's drug problem Blending an intellectual history of addiction and imprisonment with a social history of addicts experiences Rehab on the Range provides a nuanced picture of the Narcotic Farm and its cultural impacts In doing so it offers crucial historical context that can help us better understand our current debates over addiction drug policy and the rise of mass incarceration Doin' Drugs William H. James, Stephen L. Johnson, 1996 Throughout the African American community individuals and organizations ranging from churches to schools to drug treatment centers are fighting the widespread use of crack cocaine To put that fight in a larger cultural context Doin Drugs explores historical patterns of alcohol and drug use from pre slavery Africa to present day urban America William Henry James and Stephen Lloyd Johnson document the role of alcohol and other drugs in traditional African cultures among African slaves before the American Civil War and in contemporary African American society which has experienced the epidemics of marijuana heroin crack cocaine and gangs since the beginning of this century The authors zero in on the interplay of addiction and race to uncover the social and psychological factors that underlie addiction James and Johnson also highlight many culturally informed programs particularly those sponsored by African American churches that are successfully breaking the patterns of addiction The authors hope that the information in this book will be used to train a new generation of counselors ministers social workers nurses and physicians to be better prepared to face the epidemic of drug addiction in African American communities Document Retrieval Index, 1976 Victorian Medicine and Popular Culture Louise Penner, Tabitha
