The Scottish Educational System

Arthur Percival Newton

The Scottish Educational System:

The Scottish Educational System S. Leslie Hunter, 1972 The Education Systems of the United Kingdom David Phillips, 2000-01-01 This book investigates the diversity of educational provision within the various parts of the United Kingdom Building on the expertise of David Raffe and colleagues at the University of Edinburgh who have been researching what they call home internationals in education and who contribute two chapters the volume includes studies of Wales Scotland and Northern Ireland The aim is to encourage reflection on the essential differences and the binding similarities of the systems which make up educational provision in the United Kingdom Scottish Education A. Kennedy, D. Gillies, W. M. Humes, T. G. K. Bryce, 2018-07-31 This detailed informed and critical account of contemporary education in Scotland examines each of the main sectors in depth early years primary secondary further and higher education It scrutinises the historical cultural political and socio economic dimensions within which schools colleges and universities operate Featuring 67 new authors and updated and expanded throughout this fifth edition is so substantially updated from the previous edition as to practically constitute a new book The contributors have drawn on up to date research and professional analysis to give fresh insights into recent educational developments in particular during the period from the Independence referendum in 2014 through the complexities of the post Brexit years These have been years when education has faced difficult challenges and the writers analyse the many factors affecting teachers efforts to operate during uncertain times This latest edition contains forthright and informed commentary on every aspect of education and is essential reading for anyone concerned to know how education currently works in Scotland The Scottish Educational Journal, 1919 Institutional Context of Education Systems in Europe R.H. Hofman, W.H.A. Hofman, J.M. Gray, P. Daly, 2006-01-16 Based on empirical analysis using configuration theory and multi dimensional scaling this book provides insight into types of relationships that can be found between groups of countries with certain institutional context features and into the quality and equity of their education system In this volume the authors take up the challenge of considering what a European settlement might look like In doing so they take into account worldwide trends and the increasing evidence of convergence across educational systems The outcomes of comparative analyses seem to suggest that strong education systems in terms of finance governance and choice could be preferable To a greater or lesser extent therefore all the systems of education currently in use in Europe face some common challenges The way in which these challenges are addressed will determine the future of these systems Key elements in the current debate that are considered in greater detail in this volume include changing views on a centre local relations with signs of an increasing commitment to decentralisation as a guiding principle for developing school governance b school autonomy which is now increasingly regarded as the engine room for school improvement especially in relation to sustaining it and c the celebration of community and school choice as a means of securing higher levels of parental involvement This volume will be of interest to researchers and practitioners working in education educational research and sociology of education It will also be of relevance to those interested in the comparison of various education systems and in governance funding of education and school choice
