the humanities today and the humanities tomorrow

It may no longer be necessary to argue that the academic humanities are facing a crisis—but our conversations about that crisis rarely progress beyond acknowledging it. How can, and how should, the humanities meet the challenges facing academic labor, institutions, and ideas?

In this lecture, James F. English (the University of Pennsylvania) will offer both scholarly and institutional perspectives on the humanist present and what scholars, departments, and institutions dedicated to the humanities can do to secure a humanist future.
