The Pawnee Ghost Dance Hand Game Alexander Lesser, 1996-01-01 The Ghost Dance religion that swept through the Plains Indian tribes in the early 1890s was embraced wholeheartedly by the Pawnees It was a message of hope to a people devastated by the attacks of enemy tribes the encroachment of white settlers and the outbreak of epidemics For the Pawnees who were looking to the U S government and trying unsuccessfully to farm their land the Ghost Dance movement promised salvation a restoration of the Indian dead the buffalo and the old times Alexander Lesser shows how the Ghost Dance brought about a partial revival of traditional Pawnee culture and its dances and songs The ancient guessing hand game remembered best by a tribe starved for the joy of play became an important part of the Ghost Dance ritual What had been a gambling game a representation of warfare played by men was transformed into a sacred game played by both sexes as an expression of faith or good fortune Lesser surveys the history of the Pawnee Indians and their relations with the federal government and describes in detail the Ghost Dance hand games that were the chief intellectual product of Pawnee culture from the onset of the messianic movement to the original publication of this book in 1933 Citing such authorities as James Mooney and Stewart Culin Lesser produced an enduring classic now introduced by Alice Beck Kehoe a professor of anthropology at Marquette University and the author of The Ghost Dance Ethnohistory and Revitalization Biblical Astrology: A Biblical Correlation to the Cosmic Stories Daniel G. It's All about Faith Teresa Sheppard,2006-06 A General Theory of Institutional Change Shiping Tang,2017-07-05

Institutional change is a central driving force behind social changes and thus a central topic in all major fields of social sciences Yet no general theory of institutional change exists Drawing from a diverse literature this book develops a general theory of institutional change based on a social evolutionary synthesis of the conflict approach and the harmony approach The book argues that because the whole process of institutional change can be understood as a process of selecting a few ideas and turning them into institutions competition of ideas and struggle for power to make rules are often at the heart of institutional change The general theory not only integrates more specific theories and insights on institutional change that have been scattered in different fields into a coherent general theory but also provides fundamental new insights and points to new directions for future research This book makes a fundamental contribution to all major fields of social sciences sociology sociological theory political sciences institutional economics and political theory It should be of general interest to scholars and students in all major fields of social science

Agreements concerning inter institutional rules in the treaties of the European Union often give rise to reactions and processes of adaptation within the EU institutions Recent literature on EU legislative politics has increasingly examined decision making within the EU institutions but has largely overlooked how these internal processes react and adapt to changes in relations between the EU bodies To fill this gap the authors present a series of empirical studies that examine how shifts in inter institutional rules and procedures affect intra institutional politics They show that the resulting intrainstitutional adaptations may in turn both have distributive consequences and affect the efficiency of the initial inter institutional reforms In addition they provide some stepping stones for theory building on how treaty reforms affect organizational structure and decision making within the EU institutions by outlining a series of mediating variables that link these two types of change processes This book was originally published as a special issue of West European Politics More Organized Games and Class Play for the School, the Hall, and the Play-ground Frank Elston,1908 The New Century Home Book Frank A.
