Bad children are punished Be bad a child is told and you ll be turned into an animal marked with your crime Five children each tell a different story of what they became One learns that wrong can be right and her curse may be a blessing Another is so Wild he must learn the simplest lesson to love someone else An eight year old girl must face fear and doubt as she dies of old age Love and strangeness hit the lives of two brothers in the form of a beautiful flaming bird Finally the oldest child learns that what is right can be horribly wrong Together they tell a sixth story of a Wild Girl who can t speak for herself and doesn t seem Wild at all

Ecocritical Perspectives on Children's Texts and Cultures Nina Goga, Lykke Guanio-Uluru, Bjørg Oddrun Hallås, Aslaug Nyrnes, 2018-06-11 This volume presents key contributions to the study of ecocriticism in Nordic children s and YA literary and cultural texts in dialogue with international classics It investigates the extent to which texts for children and young adults reflect current environmental concerns The chapters are grouped into five thematic areas Ethics and Aesthetics Landscape Vegetal Animal and Human and together they explore Nordic representations and a Nordic conception or feeling of nature The textual analyses are complemented with the lived experiences of outdoor learning practices in preschools and schools captured through children s own statements The volume highlights the growing influence of posthumanist theory and the continuing traces of anthropocentric concerns within contemporary children s literature and culture and a non dualistic understanding of nature culture interaction is reflected in the conceptual tool of the volume The Nature in Culture Matrix

Deafness, Gesture and Sign Language in the 18th Century French Philosophy Josef Fulka, 2020-04-15 The book represents a historical overview of the way the topic of gesture and sign language has been treated in the 18th century French philosophy The texts treated are grouped into several categories based on the view they present of deafness and gesture While some of those texts obviously view deafness and sign language in negative terms i e as deficiency others present deafness essentially as difference i e as a set of competences that might provide some insights into how spoken language works One of the arguments of the book is that these two views of deafness and sign language still represent two dominant paradigms present in the current debates on the issue The aim of the book therefore is not only to provide a historical overview but to trace what might be called a history of the present

The Child Savage, 1890-2010 Elisabeth Wesseling, 2016-12-05 Taking up the understudied relationship between the cultural history of childhood and media studies this volume traces twentieth century migrations of the child savage analogy from colonial into postcolonial discourse across a wide range of old and new media Older and newer media such as films textbooks children s literature periodicals comic strips children s radio and toys are deeply implicated in each other through ongoing remediation meaning that they continually mimic absorb and transform each other s representational formats stylistic features and content Media theory thus confronts the cultural history of childhood with the challenge of re thinking change in childhood imaginaries as transformation through repetition patterns rather than as rise shine decline sequences This volume takes up this challenge demonstrating that one historical epoch may well accommodate diverging childhood repertoires which are recycled again and again as they are played out across a whole gamut of different media formats in the course of time
