

PRINCIPLES OF SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Fairness Across Generations (Intergenerational Equity)

01

We must meet today's needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet theirs.

Justice Within Our Generation (Intragenerational Equity)

02

Everyone should have equal access to resources, opportunities, and a decent quality of life.

Protecting Our Planet (Environmental Stewardship)

03

Safeguarding ecosystems, reducing pollution, and conserving biodiversity are essential for a sustainable future.

Smart Decision-Making (Integrated Approach)

04

Economic, social, and environmental factors should be considered together for balanced progress.

The "Better Safe Than Sorry" Rule (Precautionary Principle)

05

If an action may cause harm, take preventive measures even without full scientific certainty.

Public Participation & Transparency

06

Informed and engaged communities drive better decisions for sustainability.

Making Polluters Pay (Polluter Pays Principle)

07

Those responsible for environmental damage should bear the costs of fixing it.

Shared Responsibility, Different Capabilities

08

All nations should work toward sustainability, but wealthier countries must support those with fewer resources.

Sustainable Human Development Sudhir Anand, Amartya Sen, 1996      Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty-First Century - Volume II Ismail Sirageldin, 2008-12-31

Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is a component of Encyclopedia of Human Resources Policy Development and Management in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty Encyclopedias. The volume of Human Development examines the state and nature of human development and identifies factors that determine its promotion for the twenty first century. A general goal since the ultimate goal for human development is to enhance the quality of human life. However the concept quality of human life is not well defined. It is determined by a set of interrelated factors that cut across many disciplines with varied perspectives and paradigms. These include the prevailing culture, health status, economic performance, technological development, political and social conditions, the building of human capacity and capabilities and institutional development on the local and global levels. For example in an environment characterized by a better quality of human life it is expected that people will be able to lead long and productive lives. They are also expected to enjoy good health, have access to knowledge and educational opportunities and be treated by all with respect in a socially equitable and dignified manner. In the sphere of political economy they are expected to have the opportunity to participate in governance decisions that affect their lives and the community in which they live and to have the potential to earn sufficient income to supply themselves with adequate nutrition, shelter and other material and aesthetic needs. Furthermore people are expected to maintain a sustainable environment and equitable social contracts across space and generations especially in the context of the evolving global governance. The volume of Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is divided into five topics which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter presented in two volumes. The first is Major issues in Human Development and provides an over view of the Topic with emphasis on the sociological foundation of human development. The second Topic Diversity and Historical Processes reviews the historical and technological processes which have led to the present state of human diversity and differentiation. The third Topic Causes of Global Change focuses on whether it is possible in the present global environment to enlarge people's capabilities so that economic progress may be translated into a multidimensional human happiness. The fourth Topic Consequences of Global Change examines global change not in the narrow sense of short term economic change but rather as historical waves of long term development. The fifth Topic on Planning Strategies reviews current practice and projects challenges in the next century. These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College Students, Educators, Professional Practitioners, Research Personnel and Policy Analysts, Managers and Decision Makers and NGOs.

the major legal issues associated with sustainable development and to contribute to the progressive development of international law Other titles in the series are Greening International Law Interpreting the Precautionary Principle Property Rights in the Defence of Nature and Improving Compliance with International Environmental Law A legal parallel to the Blueprint series welcome timely and provocative David Pearce Originally published in 1996 Development in International Law Qerim Qerimi,2012-05-16 The dominant conceptions of development and the right thereto have been confined to narrow sectoral interpretations focusing on economic matrices and collective entities such as the state or peoples This book delimits these key notions of the public order of the 21st century in an entirely new fashion Drawing on fundamental precepts of policy oriented jurisprudence this book offers a comprehensive and systematic study and redefinition of development and the right to development guided by the goal of maximum access by all to the processes of shaping and sharing of all things humans value including empirically aspirations to power wealth well being affection enlightenment skills respect and rectitude This new paradigm of development offers fertile ground for legal and policy responses designed to bring about a public order of human dignity in all parts of the planet Sustainable Human Development ,2002 Corporate Social Responsibility, the Fight Against Corruption and Tax Behaviour Manuel Castelo Branco,2021-07-29 This book introduces in an accessible way how CSR and its reporting are being used to address problems of corruption and tax evasion or tax avoidance It discusses the efforts both of organizations and governments to integrate these issues into CSR practices and the developments that have occurred at the levels of national and international legislation The book analyses governments efforts to compel or try to induce companies to have practices more in line with what is expected of them in terms of combating corruption and paying their fair share The book is suitable for students of CSR and Business Ethics practitioners and researchers on CSR and corporate issues Beyond Hanoi Benedict J Tria Kerkvliet,David G Marr,2004 This is the first book in English to examine local government and authority in Vietnam since the country s reunification in 1975 Six chapters emphasize particular villages and districts in different parts of the country one examines a ward in Hanoi another focuses on Ho Chi Minh City and one compares leaders in several provinces To contextualize conditions today two chapters analyse local government in Vietnam s long history The opening chapter synthesizes the findings in this book with those in other studies by researchers inside and outside Vietnam International Statebuilding in West Africa Abu Bakarr Bah,Nikolas Emmanuel,2024-08-06 At the turn of the twenty first century manipulation of the democratic process coupled with preexisting political and economic grievances led to years long civil wars in Sierra Leone Liberia and C te d Ivoire During and after these conflicts international peacekeeping efforts and humanitarian intervention became the dominant paths for restoring stability by rebuilding the state Using these three countries as case studies this manuscript sheds light on internationally driven state building in war torn West African nations the problematic nature of the postcolonial state and the difficulties of securing its people s wellbeing Connecting peace and conflict democracy and international development studies

Bah and Emmanuel argue that there is a clear nexus between the concepts and practices of peace building and statebuilding that peace building and statebuilding are not domestic matters alone but also matters of global intervention and that civil wars can be viewed as opportunities for state building through creative postwar partnerships and organization This study goes beyond the familiar concepts of failed states R2P peacekeeping and peace mediation and introduces and enhances the concepts of state decay new humanitarianism people centered liberalism and institutional design In doing so it provides critical lessons that local and international actors can draw on as they try to figure out practical solutions to the political economic and social problems that impede the development of peaceful and democratic multiethnic postcolonial states in Africa and beyond Applying comparative historical methods and theory to archival materials and expert interviews International Statebuilding in West Africa seeks to shift the discourse on civil wars from their causes and implications to the opportunities they provide to rework failed states and to shift the discourse on African states from their colonial and neocolonial legacies to their shared moral and security interests with the rest of the world
