traces their development during two centuries of social and political change across northern Europe. By the 20th century many in Sweden worried about the ravages of industrialization, urbanization and emigration on traditional ways of life. Norway was gripped in a struggle for national independence. Indigenous Sámi communities, artificially divided by national borders and long resisting colonial control, rose up in protests that demanded political recognition and sparked cultural renewal. Within this context of European nation building, colonial expansion and Indigenous activism, traditional dress took on special meaning as folk, national or ethnic minority costumes, complex categories that deserve reexamination today. Through lavishly illustrated and richly detailed case studies, Dressing with Purpose introduces readers to individuals who adapt and revitalize dress traditions to articulate who they are, proclaim personal values and group allegiances, strive for sartorial excellence, reflect critically on the past and ultimately reshape the societies they live in. Decorative Furnisher, 1927

Swedish Craft Artists Monika Sarstad, 2008 Gender and Heritage Wera Grahn, Ross J. Wilson, 2018-02-02 Gender and Heritage brings together a group of international scholars to examine the performance, place and politics of gender within heritage. Through a series of case studies, models and assessments, the significance of understanding and working with concepts of gender is demonstrated as a dynamic and reforming agenda. Demonstrating that gender has become an increasingly important area for heritage scholarship, the collection argues that it should also be recognised as a central structuring device within society and the location where a critical heritage studies can emerge. Drawing on contributions from around the world, this edited collection provides a range of innovative approaches to using gender as a mode of enquiry. From the politics of museum displays, the exploration of pedagogy, the role of local initiatives and the legal frameworks that structure representation, the volume's diversity and objectives represent a challenge for students, academics and professionals to rethink gender. Rather than featuring gender as an addition to wider discussions of heritage, this volume makes gender the focus of concern as a means of building a new agenda within the field. This volume, which addresses how we engage with gender and heritage in both practice and theory, is essential reading for scholars at all levels and should also serve as a useful guide for practitioners.
