Introduction to Documentary, Third Edition Bill Nichols, 2017-03-27 The third edition of Bill Nichols's best selling text provides an up to date introduction to the most important issues in documentary history and criticism A new chapter I Want to Make a Documentary Where Do I Start guides readers through the steps of planning and preproduction and includes an example of a project proposal for a film that went on to win awards at major festivals Designed for students in any field that makes use of visual evidence and persuasive strategies Introduction to Documentary identifies the genre's distinguishing qualities and teaches the viewer how to read documentary film Each chapter takes up a discrete question from How did documentary filmmaking get started to Why are ethical issues central to documentary filmmaking Here Nichols has fully rewritten each chapter for greater clarity and ease of use including revised discussions of earlier films and new commentary on dozens of recent films from The Cove to The Act of Killing and from Gasland to Restrepo

Before Environmental Law Benjamin J Richardson, 2023-10-05 This landmark open access book unveils the history of defending Australia's natural environment and examines the subject's legal and political contexts from the birth of the nation in 1901 until the advent of the so called modern era of environmental regulation in the late 1960s It rejects the mythology that Australia lacked environmental law before the late 1960s in revealing how many of today's environmental laws from pollution control to nature conservation emerged from precedents or events much earlier in the 20th century This history however reveals a discrepancy between lawmakers greater efficacy to exploit rather than protect the environment a discrepancy that grew as nature's backlash intensified in a rapidly degrading continent colonised to build the Australian nation In exploring these dynamics the book offers a rich tapestry of case studies illustrated with historic photographs that show the origins of Australia's environmental laws and how they borrowed from international precedents or furnished lessons for other nations Through its multi disciplinary enquiry the book offers scholars and students of environmental law legal history and the environmental humanities a unique story about the failures and successes in the making of environmental law The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com

The Rainforest Family and Those Terrible Toads Peter Lamond, 2011-02 The Rainforest Family and Those Terrible Toads takes place in Australia's Lamington National Park Two children named Alec and Philippa become lost in the park's rainforest but are soon comforted by an extremely small Koori warrior named Wargunya He tells them a story about the time the rainforest was invaded by a tribe of cane toads led by the toad king Bufo and how Wargunya tried to trick some animals into scaring the toads away His first efforts fail so the small warrior consults a wise koala called Klyma who advises him with a better plan This time Wargunya enlists all of the animals in a common goal Get rid of Those Terrible Toads The plan succeeds and the cane toads are vanquished The children are then found by their parents just before the warrior is about to tell them how he became so tiny Alec and Philippa excitedly tell all about their adventure but their parents don't believe them As the family exits the rainforest Wargunya sadly watches his new friends leave In this first book of a series Wargunya got rid of a load of toads Watch for the sequel Cane toads Nigel Turvey,2013-10-11 Before the birth of modern insecticides farmers and gardeners used predatory and parasitic wasps and flies insect eating birds lizards and toads as agents of biological control In the late 19th century sugar cane scientists carried cane toads from Barbados to Puerto Rico to Hawai i and then Queensland to control pests Toads were introduced to some 138 countries and are now ranked among the world's most invasive species Queensland's sugar scientists released the toad into cane fields in 1935 They were supported by cane growers politicians the nation's leading scientists the premier of Queensland and the prime minister of Australia Only a lone voice objected In the following 70 years they spread as far as western NSW and Western Australia This story is about good intentions unintended consequences and of simple acts leading to catastrophic outcomes It is about scientists so committed to solving a problem serving their country their leaders and the industry that employed them that they are blinkered to adverse impacts There are lessons to learn from the toad's tale And as the tale shows we still come perilously close to repeating the mistakes of the past Introduction to Documentary Bill Nichols,2001 Provides a one of a kind overview of the most important topics and issues in documentary history and criticism

Encyclopedia of Television Shows, 1925 through 2010, 2d ed. Vincent Terrace,2014-01-10 This fully updated and expanded edition covers over 10 200 programs making it the most comprehensive documentation of television programs ever published In addition to covering the standard network and cable entertainment genres the book also covers programs generally not covered elsewhere in print or even online including Internet series aired and unaired pilot films erotic series gay and lesbian series risqué cartoons and experimental programs from 1925 through 1945 South African Bee Journal ,1921 Animals Count Nancy Cushing,Jodi Frawley,2018-06-13 Whether their populations are perceived as too large just right too small or non-existent animal numbers matter to the humans with whom they share environments Animals in the right numbers are accepted and even welcomed but when they are seen to deviate from the human declared set point they become either enemies upon whom to declare war or victims to be protected In this edited volume leading and emerging scholars investigate for the first time the ways in which the size of an animal population impacts how they are viewed by humans and conversely how human perceptions of populations impact animals This collection explores the fortunes of amphibians mammals insects and fish whose numbers have created concern in settler Australia and examines shifts in these populations between excess abundance equilibrium scarcity and extinction The book points to the importance of caution in future campaigns to manipulate animal populations and demonstrates how approaches from the humanities can be deployed to bring fresh perspectives to understandings of how to live alongside other animals The Bulletin ,2005 Our Animal Friends and Foes William Atherton DuPuy,1925 Florida Highways ,1944 Accompanied by Florida highways official detour bulletin Feb 1942 Herpetologica ,1951 Agricultural News Commissioner of Agriculture For the West Indies,1919 The University of California Journal of Agriculture ,1913 The Phoenix Michael Monahan,1914 The National Humane Review ,1928 Wireless World ,1974 The Wireless World ,1974 The Train Dispatcher ,1927
