Structuring Of Pedagogic Discourse:

The Structuring of Pedagogic Discourse Basil Bernstein, 2004-11-23 This book represents part of an ongoing effort to understand the rules practices agencies and agents which shape and change the social construction of pedagogic discourse It draws together and re examines the findings of the author s earlier work The Structuring of Pedagogic Discourse Basil B. Bernstein, 1971 The Structuring of Pedagogic Discourse Professor Bernstein, 1990 Class, Codes and Control Basil B. Bernstein, 2003 Class, Codes and Control: The structure of pedagogic discourse Basil B. Bernstein, 1971 Toolkits, Translation Devices and Conceptual Accounts Parlo Singh, Alan R. Sadovnik, Susan F. Semel, 2010 For over four decades Basil Bernstein researched the internal organisation and educational context of the school specifically and educational systems generally In particular he was interested in the powerful forms of knowledge transmitted through schooling systems who gained access to these forms of knowledge how they did so and with what consequences His research began by examining the differences between language and communication patterns in the institutions of the home family and of the school and extended to examining the structuring of pedagogic discourse from the level of the state to the classroom This collection brings together chapters by researchers from South Africa Portugal the United Kingdom United States and Australia to build on the theoretical concepts developed by Bernstein to explore issues of access and acquisition to school knowledge In addition contributors explore the strengths and limitations of Bernstein s work for understanding the structuring of educational institutions as well as the potential of the theory for assisting educators to make a difference in the lives of students Multimodality and Classroom Linguaging Dynamics Dan Shi, 2021-09-27 This practical analytical guide to classroom languaging dynamics in L2 tertiary classrooms integrates multimodality sociological theory of education and ecosocial semiotic perspectives It offers a theoretical and methodological framework for conducting multimodal analysis of meaning making processes in different pedagogical settings The multimodal investigation of real time classroom interactivity showcases an embodied coordination of vocalization and gesticulation in classroom interactions where it varies from students solo speech in individual presentations to teacher student interactions in group discussions and to student student interactions in role play With a unified conceptual framework articulating both the macro and micro analysis this book proposes more ecological based approaches to language and unpacks a multi scalar analytical framework to open up for an embodied analysis of meaning making processes in multimodal interaction analysis The rich systematic analysis built upon the ecosocial semiotic approach illustrates in practice how theoretical frameworks link to empirical data analysis through exemplified analytical processes and practices and demonstrates the value of how multimodal interaction analysis contributes to the understanding of the cognitive dynamics of languaging activities that take place in L2 educational contexts The book provides not only a practical methodological guide to multimodal interaction analysis but also hands on analytical references to multimodal classroom research in the field In addition to early career scholars and PhD students this volume will be valuable for international academics looking for complementary frameworks or approaches to multimodality particularly in the L2 Asian contexts
