Victimisation Theory Research And Policy:

Victimisation Pamela Davies, 2003 This title provides a review of the study of victims and victimization particularly in the areas of theory research policy and practice It aims to provide students with an introduction and overview of the core areas relating to the study of victims and victimization including the causes of victimization its nature extent and impact methods of research issues of class age race gender and community the policy context mechanisms for tackling victimization and the comparative context Each contributor to the volume explores a range of historical and contemporary debates and developments surrounding particular aspects of the victimological enterprise and by doing so outlines their own agenda for the futures of the discipline

Victims, Crime and Society Pamela Davies, Peter Francis, Chris Greer, 2007-11-18 Focusing on key issues themes and concepts within victimology this edited collection provides an accessible and comprehensive critical analysis of crucial areas within victimisation The main theories are related to and integrated with empirical research in an engaging style Dr Anette Ballinger Keele University This book achieves the rare feat of helping its readers without patronising them The aids to the reader tables boxes glossaries questions and suggestions for further reading will prove genuinely helpful to students and their teachers but they appear within a text that is theoretically informed as well as comprehensive and up to date in its coverage It deserves to be widely read and used in the teaching of criminology victimology and criminal justice Professor David Smith University of Lancaster UK Organized around the intersecting social divisions of class race age and gender the book provides an engaging and authoritative overview of the nature of victimisation in society In addition to a review of the major theoretical developments in relation to understanding aspects of victimization in society individual chapters explore the political and social context of victimisation and the historical comparative and contemporary research and scholarly work on it Each chapter includes the following Background and glossary Theory research and policy review Thinking critically about sections Reflections and future research directions Summary and conclusions Annotated bibliography Victims Crime and Society is the essential text on victims for students of criminology criminal justice community safety youth justice and related areas

Policing and Psychology Nicholas Blagden, 2012-02-22 This book draws on a range of psychological theories concepts and research to explore the role and relevance of psychology to modern day policing It focuses on key issues including psychological theories of criminal behaviour interpersonal skills stereotyping and prejudice profiling the psychological effects of crime on victims and burnout and stress on officers The text is underpinned by reflective activities and case studies encouraging a critical understanding of psychology applied to policing practice This book provides an accessible and up to date textbook for those studying and teaching policing psychology and criminology

Rethinking Social Theory and Later Life Jason L. Powell, 2006 We need to ask what are the conditions which allow narrative and trust to be formed and performed relating to ageing This book aims to provide a reflection on epistemologies of ageing and alternatively introduce post structuralist insights to ageing studies It examines how ageing appears to be individualised in neo liberal western culture Social Theory and Aging Jason L. Powell,2006 This book attempts to identify two central areas for the study of aging and the epistemological differences and continuities between them constructions of aging modern and deconstructions of aging postmodern Research on Victimisation European Committee on Crime Problems,1985 Constructing Victims' Rights Paul Elliott Rock,2004 Despite plentiful discussion at various times the personal victim has traditionally been afforded almost no formal role in the criminal justice process Victims rights have always met with stout opposition from both judges and the Lord Chancellor who have guarded defendants rights the maintenance of professionally controlled and emotionally unencumbered trials and the doctrine that crime is at heart an offence against society State or Sovereign Constructing Victims Rights provides a detailed account of how this opposition was overcome and of the progressive redefinition of victims of crime culminating in 2003 in proposals for awarding near rights to victims of crime Based upon extensive observation primary papers and interviews Paul Rock examines changes in the forms of criminal justice policy making within the New Labour Government observing how they shaped political representations and activities centred on victims of crime He reveals how the issues of new managerialism restorative justice human rights race and racism after the death of Stephen Lawrence and the treatment of rape victims after the trial of Ralston Edwards came to form a critical mass that required ordering and reconstruction Constructing Victims Rights unpicks and explains the resultant battery of proposals and the deft policy manoeuvre contained in the Domestic Violence Crime and Victims Bill of 2003 This the solution to a seemingly intractable problem was a work of finesse proposing on the one hand the imposition of statutory duties on criminal justice agencies and the granting of access to an Ombudsman and on the other a National Victims Advisory Panel that would afford victims a symbolic voice and a symbolic champion a Commissioner for Victims and Witnesses Feminism and Criminal Justice Anne Logan,2008-11-03 Feminism and Criminal Justice is a wide ranging study of the involvement of the women s movement in England and Wales with criminal justice policy in the period c 1920 70 Challenging the assumption that feminist interest in criminal justice only began with the emergence of campaigns over rape and domestic violence and of feminist criminology in the 1970s the book argues that criminal justice matters have been a long term concern of the women s movement Taking the topic from the suffragette era to the early days of second wave feminism the book traces a network of individuals and organisations that took a special interest in this area of policy and examines their campaigns A wide range of topics are covered including youth justice the law on prostitution the campaign for women jurors the care of victims women professionals and volunteers in the justice system and the movement for the abolition of the death penalty BOOK JACKET World Encyclopedia of Police Forces and Correctional Systems George Thomas Kurian,2006 This fully updated version of the original 1989 edition of the World Encyclopedia of Police Forces and Correctional Systems describes the national law enforcement and correctional systems of more than 195 countries across the globe Victimology in South Africa ,2005 The title is divided into three sections namely theory and policy practice and the future of victimology in South Africa International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,2003

Surveying Crime in the 21st Century Michael G. Maxfield,J. M. Hough,2007 Since its first sweep in 1982 the British Crime Survey and its counterparts in the US and other nations have become invaluable sources of data for research and policy development In this book chapters by a distinguished international group of scholars describe key findings of national crime surveys in a variety of research and policy areas including internationa comparisons of victimization covariation of victimization and offending the measurement of police performance the impact of crime in different types of communities attitudes to crime and justice fear of crime and the unequal distribution of risk Though national crime surveys have made substantial contributions to knowledge according to the authors the surveys must adapt to changing circumstances if they are to continue to be of value Future directions include continuing to incorporate new technology in samples and survey designs broadening the focus beyond normal crimes and individual victims and producing better measures of crimes such as fraud organized crime corruption and Internet facilitated crime Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur ,2004

Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall,2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Collected Studies in Criminological Research ,1983
