Victorian Conventions:

Victorian Conventions John Robert Reed, 1975 A Blueprint of His Dissent Roger S. Platizky, 1989 A systematic examination of five poems by Tennyson revealing a subtle encoding by the poet of a multi level criticism of Victorian mores The dementia of Tennyson's mad speakers is shown to arise from problematic Victorian conflicts about faith duty death and the suppression of desire Good Death Through Time Caitlin Mahar, 2023-02-07 I have quite a bit of understanding of white man's ways but it is difficult for me to understand this one A Senate committee investigation of Australia's Northern Territory Rights of the Terminally Ill Act 1995 the first legislation in the world which allowed doctors to actively assist patients to die found that for the vast majority of Indigenous Territorians the idea that a physician or anyone else should help end a dying suffering person's life was so foreign that in some instances it proved almost impossible to translate This book explores how such a death became a thinkable even desirable way to die for so many others in Western cultures Though euthanasia meaning good death derives from ancient Greece for the Greeks this was a matter of Fate or a gift the gods bestowed on the virtuous or simply lucky Caring for the dying was not part of the doctor's remit For the Victorians a good death meant one blessed by God and widespread belief in a divine design and the value of suffering created resistance to new forms of pain relief And today while most in the Western world cleave to the modern medical view that pain is an aberration to be where possible eliminated complex cultural ethical and practical questions regarding what makes for a good death remain As Caitlin Mahar memorably shows in The Good Death Through Time understanding the radical historical shift in Western attitudes to managing dying and suffering helps us better grasp the stakes in today's contestations over what it means to die well Text to Reader Theo d' Haen, Theo d'. Haen, 1983-01-01 Text to Reader seeks to find a critical approach that links a novel's form to its socio cultural context Combining elements from Iser's reception aesthetics speech act theory and Goffman's frame analysis this book starts from the assumption that a reader has certain conventional expectations with regard to a novel and then goes on to examine how violations of these expectations rule the reader's relationship to the novel The theory sketched in the first chapter is then in four subsequent chapters applied to The French Lieutenant's Woman by the English author John Fowles Letters by the American John Barth Libro de Manuel by the Argentinean Julio Cortázar and De Kapellekensbaan by the Flemish novelist Louis Paul Boon The particular form each of these novels takes is analyzed as correlative to that novel's communicative function This book will be of interest to comparatists students of English and American literature and the literatures of Latin America and the Low Countries Catholic World, 1917 G.K.'s Weekly, 1926 The Nation and Athenæum, 1920 Addresses delivered at the Triennial conventions and Managers' annual banquets of the Metropolitan life insurance company, 1924 Addresses Delivered at the Triennial Conventions and Managers' Annual Banquets of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company: 1917-1920 Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 1924 The Nineteenth Century, 1920 The Twentieth
