We Get Confessions:

We Get Confessions Albert Joseph, 1995 The Tamperers Al Long, 2000-12 The Tamperers is a story of corruption, greed, and prejudice in the criminal justice system. It happens in Marysville, Texas, a small city on the Mexican border where a politically motivated racist Hispanic district attorney and sheriff concoct a scheme to indict Karen Somerfeld, a popular Anglo socialite who is accused of murdering her husband. They believe convicting her will gain them any office they desire. She is convicted and sent to prison for life. Roger and Brandi learn of her plight four years later, suspect something is amiss, and launch an investigation. Despite roadblocks thrown up by Judge Fuentes, the former DA, they are determined to free Karen.

Blood of Angels Reed Arvin, 2009-10-13 Reed Arvin's previous novel The Last Goodbye was the best thing a thriller can be: suspenseful, intelligent, and well-written. Harlan Coben and others had the critics raving. People magazine stated, "You'll be hooked," and the New York Times declared it "sultry, devious, adrenaline-boosting suspense." Now comes a vivid and haunting tale of one man's search for the truth, no matter what the consequences. Thomas Dennehy, senior prosecutor in Davidson County, Tennessee, doesn't recognize Nashville anymore; a decade of relentless immigration means cops are learning Spanish, and the DA's office is looking for Vietnamese translators. Thomas's latest case is prosecuting Moses Bol, a Sudanese refugee who faces the death penalty for killing a white woman in the Nations, a notorious racially charged part of town. Bol's conviction seems certain until a university professor claims Thomas sent the wrong man to the death chamber in a previous case. The DA's office is rocked to its core, but within days another blow falls: a beautiful and brilliant anti-death penalty activist mysteriously surfaces as Bol's alibi, claiming she was with him at the time of the crime. Bol's case becomes a lightning rod as protesters on all sides converge on Nashville, and tensions threaten to explode. Meanwhile, Bol's alibi has her own secrets and is terrified of someone working behind the scenes to get what he wants, even if it means murder. Will Dennehy be able to piece things together before everything he believes about the law and about justice is torn apart? Vivid with the emotional complexity that has become the hallmark of Reed Arvin's work, Blood of Angels is filled with nonstop action, impeccable detail, and unforgettable characters, making this a novel that is impossible to resist.

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary, 1955 Represent!

Chris Ceraso, Lisa S. Brenner, 2021-03-25 In their exposé of Gen Z, The New York Times qualified its members as the most diverse generation in American history. Recent Broadway hits have found a successful formula in productions showcasing the emotional turmoil of contemporary young people, yet the majority of these works represent predominantly white voices, both in terms of authorship and representation. Non-white characters tend to exist only in a world of colorblind casting rather than speaking to their distinct racial and cultural heritage. This anthology helps correct that balance and presents a unique offering of plays written for multicultural teenagers by diverse authors who have spent a significant part of their careers working closely with young people in urban settings. The playwrights among them, award winners such as Chisa Hutchinson, and Nilaja Sun have created texts that are dramatic and comic satirical and earnest touchingly real and amusingly surreal Varying in length and format suitable for classrooms and youth groups of all sizes the plays address such themes as ethnic and cultural identity ancestry and assimilation bullying and self empowerment disenfranchisement and alienation parental pressure to over achieve youth activism and community building and the very real perils of daily school life in an era of gun proliferation
