Why Privacy Isn't Everything:

Why Privacy Isn't Everything Anita L. Allen, 2003 Accountability protects public health and safety facilitates law enforcement and enhances national security but it is much more than a bureaucratic concern for corporations public administrators and the criminal justice system In Why Privacy Isn't Everything Anita L. Allen provides a highly original treatment of neglected issues affecting the intimacies of everyday life and freshly examines how a preeminent liberal society accommodates the competing demands of vital privacy and vital accountability for personal matters Thus None of your business is at times the wrong thing to say as much of what appears to be self regarding conduct has implications for others that should have some bearing on how a person chooses to act The book addresses such questions as What does it mean to be accountable for conduct For what personal matters am I accountable and to whom Allen concludes that the sticky webs of accountability that encase ordinary life are flexible enough to accommodate egalitarian moral legal and social practices that are highly consistent with contemporary feminist reconstructions of liberalism

The Crowdsourced Panopticon Jeremy Weissman, 2021-02-26 Behind the omnipresent screens of our laptops and smartphones a digitally networked public has quickly grown larger than the population of any nation on Earth On the flipside in front of the ubiquitous recording devices that saturate our lives individuals are hyper exposed through a worldwide online broadcast that encourages the public to watch judge rate and rank people's lives The interplay of these two forces the invisibility of the anonymous crowd and the exposure of the individual before that crowd is a central focus of this book Informed by critiques of conformity and mass media by some of the greatest philosophers of the past two centuries as well as by a wide range of historical and empirical studies Weissman helps shed light on what may happen when our lives are increasingly broadcast online for everyone all the time to be judged by the global community
