The Art and Craft of Literacy Pedagogy Jennifer Rowsell, 2020-05-18 In tracing community and how art and craft can be harnessed to express and manifest communities this book raises fundamental questions and issues about the nature of literacy in everyday lives Threaded throughout the contributions is an abiding belief in the expansive and flexible nature of literacy which might one moment involve photography in the next drama and in the next invite song coupled with movement Something happens to literacy when it is seen through multiple modalities of meaning and communication it moves from a thing to a thought and a feeling Pedagogically the book offers readers a carousel of places and people to witness literacy with from young children all the way to grandparents This opens up a sense of geography and age proving that literacy really does reside in the centre and corners of our lives With nine chapters by scholars in Canada the United Kingdom and the United States all researching under the umbrella of the same research study the collection provides a unique perspective on human and aesthetic communication and shows differences between social groups This book was originally published as a special issue of Pedagogies An International Journal

The Art of Translating Poetry Burton Raffel, 1988-09-15 This book by a well known translator and critic is divided into two parts the first dealing with the linguistic and other more technical aspects of translating poetry the second involved with more practice oriented matters The chapters in Part One examine the specific constraints of language and the unavoidable linguistic bases of translation the constraints of specific languages forms and genres and prosody and comparative prosody Part Two looks at the subjective element in translation collaborative translation the translation of oral poetry and the translator's responsibility Languages discussed include Indonesian Japanese Chinese Old and Middle English French German Spanish Italian Persian Russian Latin and Greek The book argues inter alia that literal translation is impossible that no translation can fully create the original but that good literary translation can create a usable approximation that translation is secondary not only to the original work being translated but also to the linguistic and literary nature of the language being translated into that the literary translator's primary responsibility is to the work he is translating that there is nothing ever definitive about any translation that the poetry translator must be a poet and poems should not be translated into prose and that there must be a subjective identification between translator and translated work This is the first attempt to systematize linguistic information about the translation of poetry It is also the first book to range widely over the languages and literatures of the past and the present and European and Asian languages and literatures as well Raffel is the first author to combine in one study linguistic and scholarly knowledge and extensive experience of translation
