Trending research topics on carbon footprint and supply chains: a bibliometric analysis based on the Scopus data (2019–2023)

Ismail Abdi Changalima^{1*}, Prisca Pascrates Rutatola² and Goodluck Goldian Ntangeki³

Abstract

This study analyzes the publication trend, most active contributors, most influential publications and trending research topics on the current context of carbon footprint and supply chains. The study conducted a bibliometric analysis of 809 documents retrieved from Scopus, published between 2019 and 2023, to identify trends, contributors, top publications, and trending topics. With the help of Harzing's Publish or Perish and VOSviewer, the study employed performance analysis and keyword co-occurrence analysis. The study reveals an upward trajectory in the number of publications in this research domain. Additionally, the study identifies several themes through keyword co-occurrence analysis, including "the application of regulatory mechanisms and game theory in carbon emission reductions," "strategies and mechanisms for enhancing low-carbon initiatives within supply chains," "the development and optimization of sustainable supply chain systems to reduce carbon emissions," "the use of simulation and optimization models for CO₂ emission reduction in supply chain and logistics operations," "financial legislation and mechanisms for improving carbon emission reductions," "the impact of logistics and supply chain operations on carbon emissions and climate change," and "the carbon footprint in supply chains and cold chain logistics operations." This review emphasizes the need of adopting low-carbon technologies to enhance sustainable practices within supply chains. The study highlights the role of advanced technologies in efforts linked to carbon reduction. The study also advocates for a multifaceted policy approach, including encouraging innovation, and implementing financial mechanisms to reduce carbon emissions, especially in logistics and supply chain operations.

Keywords Carbon footprint, Carbon emission, Supply chains, Sustainable supply chain, Low-carbon supply chain, Bibliometrics

Introduction

Over the past years, environmentalists, academics, and various stakeholders have increasingly focused on environmental impacts and climate change concerns. This is intriguing as the negative impact on the environment affect biodiversity and human operations on Earth. It has been reported that carbon emissions account for the largest portion of global emissions [1, 2]. Despite efforts being made to address this issue, academics continue to express concerns. Their concerns show that environmental aspects need to be more focused on with efforts from the government, customers, and businesses [3–10]. This triggers aspect related to carbon footprint, which refers to the overall quantity of greenhouse gases, mainly carbon dioxide, released directly or indirectly through human activities [11]. Measuring and managing carbon emission is crucial for reducing environmental impacts and addressing climate change [12–15].

Carbon Footprint Trending:

Ecological Economics Research Trends Carolyn C. Pertsova, 2007 This new book presents important research in the field of ecological economics which is a trans disciplinary field of academic research that addresses the dynamic and spatial interdependence between human economies and natural ecosystems Ecological economics brings together and connects different disciplines within the natural and social sciences but especially between these broad areas Ecological economics presents a more pluralistic approach to the study of environmental problems and policy solutions characterised by systems perspectives adequate physical and biological contexts and a focus on long term environmental sustainability

Future Trends in Modern Plastics Johannes Karl Fink, 2024-04-02 Future Trends in MODERN PLASTICS The prolific author and polymer scientist discusses the current topics in the plastics industry and recommends future research in sustainable polymers and the recycling routes of plastic waste The book opens with a chapter discussing newly developed monomers such as alkylene based monomers epoxide monomers diol based monomers bio based monomers and several other types Modern polymerization methods are then explained such as ionic polymerization plasma polymerization and ring opening polymerization The book moves on to special issues and some future trends in the plastics industry with recommendations for future research Plastics have given society enormous benefits because of their versatility light weight durability and low costs However these properties have come with negative impacts because these persistent materials are leaked into the environment during their entire life cycle Therefore critical chapters report on the future directions for sustainable polymers the valorization of plastic waste and the recovery treatment and recycling routes of plastic waste The book concludes with chapters on the usage of plastics in medical devices as well as the use of plastics in restoration food applications additive classes and manufacturing Audience The book will be used by plastics engineers chemists polymer and materials scientists in both academia and the plastics industry

RECENT TRENDS IN CHEMICAL SCIENCES AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE Dr. Azad Kumar, Dr. Rajesh Kumar Singh, Dr. Yashvant Rao, 2021-11-18 Our intention in publishing this book was to discuss and interpret all of the major issues in the chemical and environmental science disciplines because this book covers such a broad range of chemical and environmental science research area Rather we have selected the themes and challenges briefly defined them and demonstrated how they connect clarified the terminology and indicated where further research may be accessed We hope that the result is an excellent introduction to chemical and environmental science It is primarily aimed towards researchers in chemical science and related fields but it should be accessible to new researchers as well We have explored into more depth on issues that have received little attention elsewhere There are several useful sources for topics such as chemical science environmental science nanotechnology ionic liquids solid waste management photodegradation Nanomaterial adsorption of hazardous metals and conducting polymers However we attempted to provide up to current knowledge we are well aware that books may soon go out of date if they seek to provide too much detail so we concentrated on basic concepts that should not go out of fashion too quickly Our book differs somewhat from other texts in the chemical and environmental sciences in its concentration We have focused on ideas and theories because we feel that a solid grasp of them will be more useful in the long run than specifics of present systems services and approaches We ve also highlighted the dimension since we feel it s critical to understand where the discipline and its components originated from and why some things are the way they are This approach is based on the research with several references provided at the end of each chapter for convenience Our intention is that the content of this book will be sufficient to provide a fundamental knowledge of the entire field and that readers will refer to the references for more information and examples of the parts of which they are most interested The conclusion words and captions as well as the important references at the conclusion of each chapter are intended to present the main points in a factual way
