The Forests Sourcebook provides practical operations oriented guidance for forest sector engagement toward the goals of poverty reduction conservation and economic development Intended to guide World Bank lending activities and projects the Forests Sourcebook offers information useful to a broad audience of practitioners government agencies and non governmental organizations The Sourcebook was developed in partnership with members of the Collaborative Partnership on Forests including the Food and Agriculture Organization The Sourcebook provides background on key issues lessons learned and recommendations for practitioners on a number of topics including private sector engagement forest governance sustainable plantation and commercial harvesting and forest information management systems Giving insight into the complex interplay between different realms of development work that effect or are affected by forests the Forests Sourcebook is a valuable tool for any stakeholder involved in development or business projects that could have impact on forests

Forest Strategy Michael Gane,2007-06-28 In the past lack of understanding at the nexus between the forest sector on the one hand and strategic management on the other has led to failures in many countries to realise the potential that forest sector development offers This important new book adopts a more holistic approach to propose a new theoretical framework for this once traditional sector one which reconciles current thinking in strategic management with natural resource management The book will provide a valuable resource for both forestry professionals particularly those in managerial positions in government departments and forest services throughout the world and for advanced students and researchers exploring the issues around forest sector administration The latter will include researchers from a range of backgrounds including forestry ecology geography conservation rural development economics forest or environmental policy social studies and public affairs and will be of particular interest to groups adopting an interdisciplinary approach to forestry issues

Vietnam Forestry Development Strategy Trieu, V.H.,Pham, T.T.,Đào Thị, L.C.,2020-12-18 The Vietnam Forestry Development Strategy VFDS is one of the country s most important plans for the forestry sector The strategic directions objectives and solutions within it differ from time to time depending on the political goals and perspectives of the moment as well as the role that the forestry sector plays in Vietnam s overall socio economic development Regardless of such changes inheriting lessons learned developing the next strategy off the back of the experience gained from solving previous challenges and taking advantage of opportunities are always the top priorities of the Government of Vietnam This report is the result of a collaboration between the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR and the Vietnam Administration of Forestry VNFOREST it is intended to provide VNFOREST with input as they develop the new strategy Based on secondary document research and stakeholder interviews the report reviews achievements and challenges in the implementation of VFDS 2006 2020 as well as provides recommendations for policy makers to consider in the process of developing the new strategy Research results show that by 2020 Vietnam had exceeded a number of the goals set out in VFDS 2006 2020 including i accelerating the growth of production value in the sector ii increasing the export value of wood and forest products iii increasing domestic wood production and iv planting protection forest PTF and special use forests SUF However the forestry sector still faces many challenges when it comes to other key performance indicators such as i increasing the area of production forests PDF with certification of sustainable forest management SFM ii increasing large diameter timber production iii increasing revenue for forest environmental services FES iv securing forest and forest land for the purposes of allocation and leases v reducing the number of poor households in forestry areas and vi increasing the rate at which forestry workers are trained Although some anticipated targets were not achieved others were exceeded for example forest cover reforestation after logging reduction of forest protection violations and scattered tree planting That these goals were achieved or exceeded is the result of strong political commitment policies trend matching the market improvements in central and local management capacity the active support of international donors and the involvement of civil society and the private sector That some targets were not achieved is due to the challenges of implementing policy effectively efficiently and equitably at grassroots level lack of resources and funding and some ambitious goals and targets not being realistic in the current economic political and market contexts Addressing these challenges requires a new approach and more effective economic social and technical solutions Development of VFDS 2021 2030 and the 2050 vision needs to consider the implementation achievements and challenges of the previous policy as well as how to align with global trends and balance these with the current political economic and social development context in Vietnam The direction of the new strategy must also be considered in the context of international requirements to facilitate the mobilization of domestic and foreign financial resources to help modernize the industry as well as enhance the forestry sector's role and value in terms of poverty reduction, sustainable economic development and ensuring sustainable forest ecosystems

National Report on Sustainable Forests -- 2011 Guy Robertson, 2012-10-07

Our Forests, Our Future Emil Salim, Ola Ullsten, World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development, 1999-04-15

Forests are extraordinary in their contribution to the basic human need for environmental stability and security as well as in their contribution to the livelihood of many. The World Commission on Forests and Sustainable Development (WCFSD) through its unique makeup and independent nature has been able to address the most significant issues surrounding the world's forests in a manner not possible for any other body or institution. By convening public hearings all over the world to give voice to those who depend on forests and by engaging itself in the politics of the issues at the highest levels, the WCFSD has endeavored to address fundamental and serious concerns. This report, representing the culmination of these efforts, discusses forest practices, politics and policies and the social situations which they create or perpetuate and presents the Commission's findings, conclusions and recommendations

Policy Integration for Complex Environmental Problems Helen Briassoulis, 2017-07-05

The quest for policy integration crystallized in the 1990s as awareness was growing that the current supply of narrow sectoral and little coordinated or even overlapping and conflicting policies could not cope efficiently and effectively with contemporary complex, cross-cutting and interdependent socio-environmental problems. Combining and coordinating policies properly promises to address this institutional misfit, add value to policies, support planning at national and sub-national levels and facilitate the transition to sustainable development more generally. This book proposes a comprehensive conceptualization of policy integration and negotiates pertinent theoretical, methodological and applied issues.
