Social Bonds In Later Life:

Social Bonds in Later Life Warren A. Peterson, Jill S. Quadagno, 1985-05-01 As people age they become less mobile and social networking becomes more difficult to maintain This book examines the support networks of the elderly and reaches the conclusion that older people do not engage in relationships on the basis of a one sided dependency rather relationships tend to be reciprocal or interdependent The authors offer a positive and realistic approach to the relationship between the elderly and society Macro Social Influences on Loneliness in Later Life Marja Aartsen, Iuliana Precupetu, Bianca

Suanet, 2025-07-31 This open access book explores the macro social influences on loneliness in later life emphasizing how societal structures cultural contexts and broader social transformations shape the experience of loneliness Dedicated to the social construction of loneliness and the notable heterogeneity in its prevalence across European countries this volume brings together a distinguished selection of experts who share their latest insights on meso and macro level influences cultural and structural theories and the impact of digitalization climate change and societal crises Divided into five parts the book addresses key aspects of this complex issue The first part introduces the central themes outlining the relevance of loneliness as a societal concern and discussing the limitations of existing research which predominantly focuses on individual level factors It highlights the need for a multi level approach that incorporates micro meso and macro perspectives to fully understand the contextual influences on loneliness The second part delves into theoretical perspectives offering a comprehensive framework for understanding loneliness at different levels It examines the interplay between individual relational and societal factors while also exploring cultural and social exclusion perspectives that shed light on how loneliness manifests across different contexts The third part presents empirical evidence focusing on variations in loneliness across different social groups and regions in Europe It synthesizes research on micro and meso level determinants while also providing a review of macro level influences This part highlights the role of welfare regimes demographic trends and broader societal conditions in shaping the prevalence and experience of loneliness The fourth part explores recent societal developments that may influence loneliness including digitalization migration climate change and societal crises These emerging topics illustrate how macro level transformations can either alleviate or exacerbate loneliness depending on how they interact with existing social structures and individual circumstances The final part discusses methodological advancements and policy implications It introduces an innovative approach to analyzing macro social influences on loneliness and revisits the loneliness paradox in light of new findings The book concludes with policy recommendations and future research directions emphasizing the need for a holistic approach that integrates individual relational and societal dimensions to develop more effective interventions against loneliness In sum by adopting a macro social lens this book contributes to a deeper understanding of the societal cultural and policy related determinants of loneliness It offers a foundation for evidence based interventions that go beyond individual level solutions recognizing loneliness as a socially embedded phenomenon shaped by broader societal forces It is our hope and expectation that the book and its content will fundamentally change our understanding of loneliness and strategies to combat it Ageing, Men and Social Relations Paul Willis, Ilkka Pietilä, Marjaana Seppänen, 2023-03-30 While there has been a gradual increase in scholarship on men ageing and masculinities little attention has been paid to the social relations of men in later life and the implications for enhancing their social wellbeing and counteracting ageist discourse Bringing together scholars in social gerontology and the social sciences from across Global North and South nations this collection fills the gaps in key texts by foregrounding older men's experiences It provides new perspectives across the intersections of old age ethnicities class and sexual and gender identity paying particular attention to older men from seldom heard or marginalised groups Juvenile Delinquency: An Integrated Approach James Burfeind, Dawn Jeglum Bartusch, 2010-02-26 Attachment and Bonding C. Sue Carter, Lieselotte Ahnert, K. E. Grossmann, Sarah B. Hrdy, Michael E. Lamb, 2015-10-06 Scientists from different disciplines including anthropology psychology psychiatry pediatrics neurobiology endocrinology and molecular biology explore the concepts of attachment and bonding from varying scientific perspectives Attachment and bonding are evolved processes the mechanisms that permit the development of selective social bonds are assumed to be very ancient based on neural circuitry rooted deep in mammalian evolution but the nature and timing of these processes and their ultimate and proximate causes are only beginning to be understood In this Dahlem Workshop Report scientists from different disciplines including anthropology psychology psychiatry and behavioral biology come together to explore the concepts of attachment and bonding from diverse perspectives In their studies they seek to understand the causes or the consequences of attachment and bonding in general and their different qualities in individual development in particular They address such questions as biobehavioral processes in attachment and bonding early social attachment and its influences on later patterns of behavior bonding later in life and adaptive and maladaptive or pathological outcomes The studies confirm that social bonds have consequences for virtually all aspects of behavior and may be protective in the face of both physical and emotional challenges Encyclopedia of Criminological Theory Francis T.
