History and Ideology in the Old Testament Prophetic Literature Antti Laato,1996 In this study arguments are put forward for the thesis that biblical exegesis of the Old Testament prophetic literature is not a simple matter of interpreting texts but is also a process in which logical models or possible worlds are constructed to accommodate the validity of particular interpretations The lack of a model theoretical orientation to Old Testament methodological approaches has led to a situation in which the criticism of particular theories rarely addresses the real points of disagreement between scholars One theory is simply set against another even though the theories would be more effectively evaluated by discussing the validity and relevance of the different models in which they are framed There are various plausible and relevant models available for the interpretation of Old Testament texts In order to compare these different models a metalogical system Charles Sanders Peirce s semiotics has been used throughout this study Many important methodological issues are discussed in this study a representations Text production is also at work in text to text transformations such as sentence compression sentence fusion paraphrasing sentence or text simplification and text summarisation This book offers an overview of the fundamentals of neural models for text production In particular we elaborate on three main aspects of neural approaches to text production how sequential decoders learn to generate adequate text how encoders learn to produce better input representations and how neural generators account for task specific objectives Indeed each text production task raises a slightly different challenge e g how to take the dialogue context into account when producing a dialogue turn how to detect and merge relevant information when summarising a text or how to produce a well formed text that correctly captures the information contained in some input data in the case of data to text generation We outline the constraints specific to some of these tasks and examine how existing neural models account for them More generally this book considers text to text meaning to text and data to text transformations It aims to provide the audience with a basic knowledge of neural approaches to text production and a roadmap to get them started with the related work The book is mainly targeted at researchers graduate students and industrials interested in text production from different forms of inputs

Dada's Manifestos and Peter Bürger's Theory of the Avant-garde Marco Hompes,2011-01-18 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Art Art Theory General grade 8.5 University of Amsterdam Cultural Analysis course Art as an Institute and its Critique language English abstract 1 Introduction The avant garde intends the abolition of autonomous art by which it means that art is to be integrated into the praxis of life At least this is what Peter Bürger states in his groundbreaking book Theory of the Avant garde In the book Bürger gives some examples that shall acknowledge and prove his theory e g Ren Magritte or Marcel Duchamp It is clear that such examples need to stay eclectic in order to fit the developed theory In the following Bürger's text will be put to the acid test by analysing some avant garde works through the eyes of Peter Bürger and it shall be examined if specific programmatic avant gardist works go well with his theory The manifestos by the first Dadaists in Zürich seem to be extremely useful for this attempt Their productions haven't been canonised yet and have served as an example for further Dadaistic productions in Germany the USA the Netherlands Romania Georgia Poland etc They excessively produced manifestos and declared their ideals and plans However these declarations always remain a bit opaque as they avoid clear statements and explicitly write absurd In their works the Dadas often make statements and shortly afterwards reject them again Tristan Tzara's manifestos are great examples of this kind of text therefore this paper focuses on his writings but will consider manifestos by Walter Serner thoughts by Marcel Janco or

Hugo Ball as well Can Theory of the Avant garde be a key to excerpt meaning from the Dadaistic text production or do the manifestos go beyond B rger s theory or even prove him wrong
