Translating Partition Studies In Culture Translation Alt Series:

Translating Partition Attia Hosain, 2001 This collection is about those on the wrong side of the border Apart from offering a perspective on displaced people and communities the stories talk about people as religious and linguistic minorities in post Partition India and Pakistan These narratives offer insights into individual experience and break the silence of the collective sphere

Revisiting India's Partition Amritjit Singh, Nalini Iyer, Rahul K. Gairola, 2016-06-15 Revisiting India's Partition New Essays on Memory Culture and Politics brings together scholars from across the globe to provide diverse perspectives on the continuing impact of the 1947 division of India on the eve of independence from the British Empire The Partition caused a million deaths and displaced well over 10 million people The trauma of brutal violence and displacement still haunts the survivors as well as their children and grandchildren Nearly 70 years after this cataclysmic event Revisiting India's Partition explores the impact of the Long Partition a concept developed by Vazira Zamindar to underscore the ongoing effects of the 1947 Partition upon all South Asian nations In our collection we extend and expand Zamindar's notion of the Long Partition to examine the cultural political economic and psychological impact the Partition continues to have on communities throughout the South Asian diaspora The nineteen interdisciplinary essays in this book provide a multi vocal multi focal transnational commentary on the Partition in relation to motifs communities and regions in South Asia that have received scant attention in previous scholarship In their individual essays contributors offer new engagements on South Asia in relation to several topics including decolonization and post colony economic development and nation building cross border skirmishes and terrorism and nationalism This book is dedicated to covering areas beyond Punjab and Bengal and includes analyses of how Sindh and Kashmir Hyderabad and more broadly South India the Northeast and Burma call for special attention in coming to terms with memory culture and politics surrounding the Partition

Transcultural Memory and Globalised Modernity in Contemporary Indo-English Novels Nadia Butt, 2015-09-14 This book places transcultural memory in the South Asian cultural and literary context Divided into two parts the book first defines transcultural memory in the age of globalised modernity both as a theory and social practice Then it examines contemporary Indo English novels from India and Pakistan with the theoretical and methodological tool of transcultural memory to shed new light on the connection between memory and modernity and memory and South Asian cultures in the wake of new social and political transformations on the Indian subcontinent A special focus on commemorative tropes in the novels not only show the possibility of a dialogue with different versions of the past but also how such a dialogue shapes processes of remembrance between and beyond borders Hence the book comes up with alternative ways of reading the Indo English novels divesting the concept of trans cultural memory from its Euro centrism and claiming it as equally significant in comprehending the new configurations of memory and modernity in non Western locations

Managing Ambiguity Čarna Brković, 2017-07-01 Why do people turn to personal connections to get things done Exploring the role of favors in social welfare systems in postwar postsocialist Bosnia and

Herzegovina this volume provides a new theoretical angle on links between ambiguity and power It demonstrates that favors were not an instrumental tactic of survival nor a way to reproduce oneself as a moral person Instead favors enabled the insertion of personal compassion into the heart of the organization of welfare Managing Ambiguity follows how neoliberal insistence on local community flexibility and self responsibility was translated into clientelist modes of relating and back and how this fostered a specific mode of power

Modern Indian Literature as Cosmopolis Didier Coste,2024-10-09 This book redefines modern Indian literature from a cosmopolitan comparative perspective inclusive of literature in English from India and the diaspora in native languages and works by non Indians It shows how since the mid 19th century Indian literary modernity pursued the conjunction of the sensuous and ethical spiritual that characterized its three traditions Sanskritik Persian and folk culture while the encounter both receptive and oppositional with the West vastly expanded the Indian literary sphere Aesthetics and ethics are not antithetical in the Indian cultural space but the quest for an exclusive Indian identity versus universalist approaches offsets concerns for social justice as well as enjoyable embodied communication The literary constellation in many languages now formed in and around India can be better apprehended as a virtual Cosmopolis a commonwealth of elaborate emotions The versatile figure of Hanuman metaphorically flies across this Ocean of Stories to make us discover new worlds of experience

Soul and Sword Hindol Sengupta,2023-12-01 Sengupta has written an in depth study of the development of political Hinduism in India Readers of history religion and politics and with interest in India and its role in the world will find this detailed work appealing Booklist This is the first intellectual history of political Hinduism from its medieval origins to current day India It provides the ideological context of India s rise economically and politically in the world in the last decade illustrating not only where political Hinduism comes from but more importantly where it seeks to go It provides an intellectual framework not only to understand the rise of Narendra Modi and his politics in the world s largest democracy but also India s political economic and diplomatic choices as it negotiates its space as a rapidly rising billion strong democracy in a fluid and precarious world order

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003-04 MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures ,2008 The Book Review ,1998 Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1992 Translating Worlds Susannah Radstone,Rita Wilson,2020-09-06 This international and interdisciplinary volume explores the relations between translation migration and memory It brings together humanities researchers from a range of disciplines including history museum studies memory studies translation studies and literary cultural and media studies to examine memory and migration through the interconnecting lens of translation The innovatory perspective adopted by Translating Worlds understands translation s explanatory reach as extending beyond the comprehension of one language by another to encompass those complex and multi layered processes of parsing by means of which the unfamiliar and the familiar the old home and the new are brought into conversation and connection Themes discussed include How memories of lost homes act as aids or hindrances to homemaking in new worlds

How cultural memories are translated in new cultural contexts Migration affect memory and translation Migration language and transcultural memory Migration traumatic memory and translation The Relocation of Culture Simona Bertacco, Nicoletta Vallorani, 2021-04-08 The Relocation of Culture is about accents and borders about people and cultures that have accents and that cross borders It is a book that deals with translation and nomadic identities and with the many ways in which the increasing relevance of forced migrations has affected the practice of languages and the understanding of cultures in our times Simona Bertacco and Nicoletta Vallorani examine the theoretical and practical nexus of translation and migration two of the most visible and anxiety producing keywords of our age and use translation as the method for a global cultural theory firmly based in the humanities both as creative output and interdisciplinary scholarship Positioning their work within the field of translation studies with important borrowings from literary and cultural studies visual and migration studies the authors suggest a theory of translation that makes space for complexity considers different languages words images sounds bodies and takes into account both our emotional pre linguistic and instinctual reaction to the other as an invader and an enemy and the responsibility for the other that lies at the heart of translation This process necessarily involves a reflection on the location and relocation of cultures in contemporary times Translation, History, and Culture Susan Bassnett, 1990 This varied collection of essays represents the differing strands of work currently being undertaken in the exciting new field of Translation Studies and reflects a shift of emphasis away from a more descriptive form of translation towards the idea that translation occupies a seminal position in the development of culture Susan Bassnett is Director of the Centre for British Comparative Cultural Studies at the University of Warwick Andre Lefevere is Professor of Germanic Philology at the University of Texas at Austin Identity and Difference Maria Sidiropoulou, 2005 Papers presented at the Choice and difference in translation international conference organized by the Faculty of English Studies University of Athens December 3 6 2003 Pref and acknowledgements Between Languages and Cultures Anuradha Dingwaney, Carol Maier, 2010-11-23 Translated texts are often either uncritically consumed by readers teacher and scholars or seen to represent an ineluctable loss a diminishing of original texts Translation however is a cultural practice influenced also by social and political imperatives which can open more doors than it closes The essays in this book show how the act of translation when vigilantly and critically attended to becomes a means for active interrogation Translating Cultures David David Katan, 2015-11-24 As the 21st century gets into stride so does the call for a discipline combining culture and translation This second edition of Translating Cultures retains its original aim of putting some rigour and coherence into these fashionable words and lays the foundation for such a discipline This edition has not only been thoroughly revised but it has also been expanded In particular a new chapter has been added which focuses specifically on training translators for translational and intercultural competencies The core of the book provides a model for teaching culture to translators interpreters and other mediators It introduces the reader to current understanding about culture and aims to raise awareness of the fundamental role of culture in constructing perceiving and translating reality Culture is perceived throughout as a system for orienting experience and a basic presupposition is that the organization of experience is not reality but rather a simplified model and a distortion which varies from culture to culture Each culture acts as a frame within which external signs or reality are interpreted The approach is interdisciplinary taking ideas from contemporary translation theory anthropology Bateson s logical typing and metamessage theories Bandler and Grinder s NLP meta model theory and Hallidayan functional grammar Authentic texts and translations are offered to illustrate the various strategies that a cultural mediator can adopt in order to make the different cultural frames he or she is mediating between more explicit

Changing the Terms Sherry Simon,Paul St-Pierre,2000-11-27 This volume explores the theoretical foundations of postcolonial translation in settings as diverse as Malaysia Ireland India and South America Changing the Terms examines stimulating links that are currently being forged between linguistics literature and cultural theory In doing so the authors probe complex sequences of intercultural contact fusion and breach The impact that history and politics have had on the role of translation in the evolution of literary and cultural relations is investigated in fascinating detail Published in English

Translating Cultures Paula G. Rubel,2003-04 Pt 1 General problems of translation pt 2 Specific applications

Translation and Empire Douglas Robinson,2014-04-08 Arising from cultural anthropology in the late 1980s and early 1990s postcolonial translation theory is based on the observation that translation has often served as an important channel of empire Douglas Robinson begins with a general presentation of postcolonial theory examines current theories of the power differentials that control what gets translated and how and traces the historical development of postcolonial thought about translation He also explores the negative and positive impact of translation in the postcolonial context reviewing various critiques of postcolonial translation theory and providing a glossary of key words The result is a clear and useful guide to some of the most complex and critical issues in contemporary translation studies

Translation in Diasporic Literatures Guanglin Wang,2019-03-26 This book investigates issues of translation and survival in diasporic and transcultural literature combining Chinese and Western theories of translation to discuss the centrifugal and centripetal forces that are inherent in diasporic Chinese writers Cutting across philosophy semiotics translation studies and diasporic writing it the book tackles the complexity of translation as a key tool to re read the dynamics of Sino Anglo literary encounters that reset East West parameters Focusing on a range of specialized areas of cultural translation sand China related writings this book is a key read for scholars of translation and cross cultural writings ethnic studies postcolonial studies American and Australian literature studies and global Chinese literature studies
