

What is formative feedback?

Formative feedback is feedback given to students during the learning process.

- give evidence of where the learner is up their (strengths) and areas for improvement to the individual learner often
- explain the activity and learning goal
- give students an idea of how the teacher can help progress towards that goal

Formative feedback should be given regularly and often by the teacher or peer and self

Formative feedback should be given at the appropriate time - sometimes during the lesson and other times after the lesson

Formative feedback should be given in a way that is specific and helpful for the learner to improve their learning

How might formative feedback be delivered?

Formative feedback types to use:

When teachers:

- regularly give oral feedback during the lesson
- use the form of evidence or goals

Use the written form of feedback to give an idea of the activities against the completed learning activity

Written feedback can take the form of a sheet or the journal, depending on the context usually has to represent the learning activity

When using written feedback it is important to provide the feedback in a way that is clear and helpful to the learner

Written feedback should be given in a way that is specific and helpful for the learner to improve their learning

Steps For Guidance:

Steps for Guidance Peter Masters,1995-01-01 The subject of how to find God's guidance has become controversial Some say it comes by dreams visions and words of knowledge Others say that God does not have a specific plan for His people but allows them to take their own decisions as long as they do so in a wise and moral way By contrast with these ideas this book presents from Scripture the time honoured view that Christians must seek God's will in all the major decisions of life The author outlines six biblical steps for finding God's will giving special attention to key areas such as courtship and marriage possessions and leisure activities Under what circumstances may Christians seek advancement in career and wealth Does the Lord determine which church fellowship a believer should join When is it wrong to leave a church and when is it right Clear biblical answers are given
