Understanding Effective Learning Des Hewitt, 2008-05-16 Within education concepts such as learning styles learning strategies and independent learning are often cited as important areas for development in schools DFES 1998 2001 but these are rarely satisfactorily defined It is essential for teachers to develop a detailed understanding of learning across the curriculum as well as appropriate strategies if children are to learn effectively This book explores these important concepts by examining learning in a range of classroom settings and drawing on evidence from teachers and pupils through interviews and observations The focus is two fold to understand learning in the classroom and to develop practices which will support learning Topics explored include Models of learning Learning strategies and the teacher Learning strategies and the learner Assessment for Learning The social dimension of children s learning The book provides a rich mixture of examples reflection points case studies and strategies for the classroom to provide the reader with a wide range of ideas to encourage more effective learning in their classroom Understanding Effective Learning is key reading for student beginning and early career teachers in primary education

Motivation and Learning Noel Mwenda,2012-05-14 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject Psychology Intelligence and Learning Psychology grade 1 3 University of Dodoma College of Education course Theories of Learning language English abstract Without motivation there is no learning motivation isn t everything but it is a necessary condition for success in truth much of what passes for teaching is demotivating even advanced learners do not take readily to sitting in a classroom lecture theater conference hall or training room if they are not stimulated and motivated Clark 2007 Rao et al 2006 Of course motivation is not the same thing as learning and learning is not wholly down to motivation and there are many factors that affect both motivation and learning that are beyond the learner s control Clark 2007 However in an age where there s fierce competition for the attention of learners we are duty bound to recognize that motivation matters ibid The present work motivation and learning is prepared to provide a conceptualization of learning learning processes as well as characteristics of learning Furthermore this work provides a conceptualization of motivation and the way motivation is linked to learning it also acquaints a reader to sources of motivation and the theories that describe motivation Of greatest importance the work provides techniques of developing motivation in classroom as well as in learning

Effects of Peer Understanding Feedback on Learning John Pierre Priollaud,1969

The Process of Learning about Static Electricity and the Role of the Computer Simulator Valerie K. Otero,2001 The concepts investigated in this study stemmed from two things First a pilot study where we found that the static electricity simulator results coupled with the CPU pedagogical structure provided facilitated the articulation and sharing of ideas in a small group of three students From this we hypothesized that the simulator tools played a role in knowledge construction and we wanted to find out more about what role it played Second the past ten years of research in mathematics and science education has led to the recognition of the importance of the instructional setting collaboration and cognitive tools in the construction of knowledge A tradition has emerged where researchers have begun to look at the individual s knowledge construction through a different lens than the knowledge that emerges through group interactions From this type of research we can learn about the knowledge construction of the individual and the knowledge construction of the group We can understand how the interactions within the group have influenced the knowledge development of the individual However we cannot learn about how the individual influences the group parameters Repeated interactions between individuals and tools can fundamentally change the social and material setting We need to look at how the social and material setting changes as a result of the individuals interaction with it and how this changing social setting influences the conceptual development of the individual Investigating interdependent interaction between the individual and the social and material setting is the foundation for this work I believe that understanding learning requires more than understanding the individual and understanding the social environment of which he was a part Understanding learning means understanding how the individual changes the social and material setting and how these changes influence the individual This dissertation is devoted to understanding individuals learning the factors that influenced it and further understanding how these factors were determined by the knowledge evolution of the individual Arabic-English dictionary, by W.T.
