Possible roots: They have a natural curiosity about the world and the people in it. They have a desire to learn and expand their knowledge.

Associated attitudes: Seeking to understand the root causes of conflicts or misunderstandings. Offering support and encouragement to others in difficult situations.

Examples: Anne Elliot from Persuasion by Jane Austen. Molly Weasley from the Harry Potter series by J.K. Rowling. Matilda from Matilda by Roald Dahl.

Writing prompt: Write a monologue where your character reflects on a past mistake or misunderstanding they had due to their lack of understanding. Show how they take responsibility for their actions and commit to doing better in the future.

Understanding People:

Understanding People Trevor Butt, 2017-03-14 Understanding People provides an overview and critique of current psychological assumptions about people and what differentiates them and replaces them with a set of ideas taken from social constructionism. It begins with an examination of contemporary theories then explores the critique of the social constructionists before laying out the basis of an understanding of human action and behaviour drawing on phenomenology and personal construct theory. Using everyday experience to illustrate the issues in personality theory. Is behaviour situation specific? Why do we have a sense of self? Is there an unconscious? This book will breathe life into an area of psychology that is so often arid and in the eyes of students divorced from their world. Understanding People, Understanding Yourself The Art of EQ and Relationships S.IDEA, Understanding People in Context Ellen P.
