The 5x questions checklist for an effective hybrid workplace model

01

What do people want?

As mentioned above, a successful hybrid work strategy and hybrid workplace model can only work if it's designed for the people.

Before making any significant decisions or investments, it's important to understand the preferences, needs, and expectations of the employees you want to attract, and the employees who will stay with you long-term.

You want to build a workplace model in which all roles, functions, and employees are designed to work well together, and address the most common challenges faced by your team.

How do you know? Start by conducting a survey of your current and former employees, and ask them to share their preferences, needs, and expectations. You can also conduct focus groups or interviews with employees to get their input on the challenges they face.
