Stories In Another Language:

Language Teachers' Stories from their Professional Knowledge Landscapes Lesley Harbon, Robyn Moloney, 2017-06-23 Language Teachers Professional Knowledge Landscapes is a collection of fourteen narratives from teachers of different languages at different school levels in different contexts across Australia This volume brings together not simply language teacher stories but also more political stories of the problems associated with school programs and contexts Highlighted through these stories are some of the major political issues in schools that impact language teachers work and their students success in sustained language study The book is conceptually framed by the work of Clandinin and Connelly 1996 and their notion of levels of stories told by teachers about their classrooms the secret the sacred and the cover stories The term professional knowledge landscape is used to indicate how teachers can critically situate their work and thereby understand it better The collection includes the stories of two outstanding primary language educators and a story of mixed success in a rural program in teaching the local Aboriginal language Ngarrabul There are stories of frustration with policy failures particularly in supporting the learning of Asian languages Many of the teacher narrators ask the confronting question What blocks language learning in Australia They offer the strategies which they have developed that they see making a difference Other narratives offer autoethnographic tracking of careers for example as a teacher of Latin and Classics Japanese French Spanish Russian and of teachers ongoing vigour and creativity in advocacy A number of teachers examine their own identity story for the intercultural learning which they then offer and extend in student learning Consistently expressed there is the need for teachers to take up individual responsibility while still being strongly supported by their professional community It is us who make the difference one teacher concludes Supported by a strong Foreword by Canadian scholar F Michael Connelly this ground breaking collection of narratives represents a form of social research in providing critical illustrations of the issues needing attention for national language education enhancement It is the only extended inquiry into language teaching in the context of an active policy initiative environment and the first volume to address the language education landscape through the voices of active language teachers

Taatung Tatung and Other Amazing Stories of India's Diverse Languages Vaishali Shroff, 2023-02-13 Languages make us human The ability to communicate and be understood through songs art words inscriptions or even gestures is essential because we as a species cannot live in isolation And each one of these languages has its own journey Early humans leaving messages on cave walls three men on a raft stumbling upon a language they weren't looking for a secret language that evolved to hide a people the world's only undeciphered language that is 4000 years old The stories in this book take you from the northeastern most tip of our country to the forests in central India from indigenous languages that are thousands of years old to those that have developed recently Engrossing entertaining and packed with trivia this book is for non fiction lovers and students who have a keen interest in all things India

explores how 15 immigrants from German speaking Switzerland in Australia make sense of their migratory experience of building a new life in a different language It does so by examining their written and oral life stories The analysis takes two complementary perspectives Firstly the construction of language identities is studied through the language practices and attitudes discussed and displayed by the participants Secondly the ways in which they create coherence in their life stories focuses on autobiographical identities where language is a medium of sense making across their life course The combined perspectives highlight the diversity among the participants and the complexities of language and identity construction in the context of migration
